East-West Still Differ On Test Ban

Question Remains When Major Issues Will Be Ironed Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the Eisenhower-Macmillan agreement on a reply to the Soviet Union's new nuclear test ban offer, major East-West differences on the subject still exist after nearly 1½ years of negotiation.

How soon these differences may be settled remained a question.

After Tuesday's meeting between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, a U.S. spokesman expressed hope for a treaty within 90 days —provided the Soviets are sincere. But the U.S.-British communique itself noted that "important specific problems" still block agreement upon the atomic powers negotiating at Geneva.

They include:

1. Number of on-site inspections.

The United States and Britain want a scientifically adequate number of inspections allowed each year to make sure that suspicious events recorded by scientific instruments are just earthquakes, not atomic blasts. They say this would require about 20 inspection trips inside the Soviet Union each year.

The Soviets want a politically set quota on on-site inspections. They have proposed no specific limits but have indicated they want fewer than a half-dozen spot checks allowed a year.

2. Composition of the control commission.

The West says a control commission—the governing body for the test ban system—should have a three-two-two split among its seven members, to be composed of an American and a Britisher plus one Western ally, one Soviet plus an ally, and two neutrals.

The Soviets are asking for a three-three-one split, three members for the East and three for the West, plus one neutral. The western negotiators object that this setup would place too much pressure on the neutral and would give the Soviets a veto on all decisions requiring a two-thirds vote.

3. Staffing of control program.

The West says the 180 control stations which would be located around the world to police the test ban should be staffed one-third by persons from the country where the post is located, one-third by persons on the other side and one-third by neutrals.

The Reds say they'll agree to this—provided the West agrees to their control commission proposal, reduces the number of neutrals on the control post staff and puts it in charge of a national of the country where the post is located.

The West objects to having the control post staff headed by a man from the country under inspection.

4. Peaceful tests.

Moscow wants authority to set off a nuclear explosion for peaceful purposes for each one set off by both the United States and Britain.

The Western powers contend there should be no arbitrary East-West matching of nonmilitary blasts.

5. Vetoes.

Throughout these and other still-unsettled problems looms the question of voting procedures. The Reds have pushed for veto rights at key points. The West has objected that the control machinery cannot work effectively when one power possesses a veto.

Agreement Hinged On Reds' Okay

Will Be Presented To Soviet At Disarm Meeting In Geneva

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan believe a limited treaty banning nuclear weapons tests can be signed within a few months if the Soviet Union accepts their proposal for a short-term ban on small underground blasts.

The compromise proposal, in some ways a concession to the Soviet Union, is to be formally presented to the U.S.S.R. in the three-power nuclear test conference at Geneva in the next day or so.

Asst. Secretary of State Andrew Berding said agreement at Geneva is possible within 90 days if there is good will on all sides.

The compromise offer was announced late Tuesday in a joint statement by Eisenhower and Macmillan issued from Camp David, Md.

They are known also to have discussed strategy for the May summit meeting at Paris with French President Charles de Gaulle and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, but their statement disclosed decisions only on the nuclear test problem.

The President and the Prime Minister remained at Eisenhower's Catoctin Mountain retreat overnight, but arranged to return to Washington for a morning news conference. Macmillan will leave for London at 11 p.m. aboard the British jetliner which brought him to the United States last Saturday.

British and U.S. experts were not sure how the Soviets would react to the new compromise plan. The Soviets wanted an indefinite moratorium on small underground weapons tests.

The U.S.-British announcement specified no time, but the plan was expected to limit the informal moratorium to a year or so.

Eisenhower and Macmillan declared that their aim is ultimately "the total prohibition of all nuclear weapons tests, under effective international control."

They said, however, that in the present state of scientific knowledge "there are great technical problems involved in setting up a control system which would be effective in detecting underground nuclear tests" below the size of 19 kilotons. That is a relatively small explosion as nuclear weapons go today, though it is about the force of the first atomic bomb dropped in World War II.

It was because of this lack of detection ability that Eisenhower declared in February that the United States was prepared to sign only a treaty which would prohibit tests that could be policed by an adequate inspection system.

Boo And Hiss In South African Unrest

30,000 Negroes Demand Release Of Their Leaders

JOHANNESBURG (AP)— More than 30,000 Negroes marched on a heavily manned Cape Town police station today and, under the guns of armored cars, demanded release of their newly arrested leaders.

The Negroes shouted down a Negro constable of the Caledon Square station who tried to persuade them to disperse. With armed white and Negro policemen ringing the station, they booed and hissed.

Then the white colonel of police, I. S. Terblanche, spoke over a loudspeaker. Vainly he urged a dispersal. Terblanche finally ordered all businesses in the vicinity to close.

Shouting "Our country" and "Africa," the Negroes had closed in on the station from the Langa settlement of Cape Town.

Facing perhaps the greatest racial crisis in South African history, Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's government proclaimed a state of emergency — a modified form of martial law — to affect 80 of the nation's 300 magistrial districts.

The Cabinet met in Cape Town, South Africa's parliamentary capital on the Atlantic 900 miles southwest of Johannesburg, while the Negroes were on the march with a South African air force helicopter whirring overhead to keep tab on their movements. The proclamation was announced by Justice Minister F.C. Erasmus.

The declaration of the state of emergency followed a sweeping predawn roundup of opponents of the government's racial policy. More than 150 were reported arrested, many in Cape Town.

The South African Press Assn. reported a column more than a mile long marched out of Cape Town's Langa settlement and headed for the Caledon Square station.

New violence broke out at Worcester, northeast of Cape Town. Police used tear gas and fired shots in the air to disperse a mob of Negroes gathered near a factory.

Armed white and Negro policemen ringed the Cape Town police station as the Negroes marched toward it. Traffic was brought to a complete standstill by the marchers.

At least 72 white, Negro and Indian members of antigovernment organizations were arrested in the government's roundup, and unconfirmed reports said the total would be much higher.

The arrests were reported made under South Africa's Public Safety Act.

Police began knocking on doors at 2 a.m. and quoted the act before hauling occupants away.

Uniformed police with rifles accompanied detectives in Johannesburg's Orlando Negro Township.

Persons who demanded to see arrest warrants were told they were not necessary under the Public Safety Act.

Members of at least 10 political organizations were jailed. They ranged from the Liberal party, moderate foes of the government's racial policy, to the extreme leftist Congress of Democrats. Members of a number of trade unions also were picked up.

One of those who escaped was Alan Paton, South Africa's best known author and the Liberal party president.

Police Tuesday had combed the native quarter southwest of Johannesburg for Negro rioters who shattered the quiet of Monday's day of mourning with fires, attacks on Negroes who ignored the stop-work call and on policemen. The African National Congress and the Pan Africanist Congress had called a day-long work stoppage in protest against the killing of 72 Negroes by police gunfire in riots last week.

Hundreds Homeless, Many Marooned

Floods Peril Wide Areas Of Midwest; 6 Lose Lives

By The Associated Press

Early spring floods menaced broad areas of the Midwest today, in the wake of one of the most severe winters and heavy snow in years.

Hundreds of families were temporarily homeless and others marooned. Some farms were isolated. Thousands of acres of farm land and lowlands were inundated.

Floodwaters from scores of swollen and ice-blocked rivers and streams spilled into dozens of communities in a nine-state zone stretching across Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and the Dakotas.

Nebraska and Iowa appeared hardest hit. Nebraska arranged to have seven counties in the eastern section declared disaster areas. The flood section in the state extends from the northeast corner to an area west of Omaha.

The eastern third of Nebraska was described as "big sheet of water." At one point the Platte River, which is causing most of the trouble, was reported seven to eight miles wide.

Helicopters were sent by the Army and the National Guard to rescue scores trapped by the surging waters in Nebraska. Many families were evacuated from Fremont, a city of 14,000 near Omaha, and nearby Valley, a town of 1,200, and from Columbus, a town of 8,000 in the east central section.

The high waters closed scores of highways in Nebraska and Missouri and in some other parts of the flood belt and caused re-routing of some trains.

Mild weather since last weekend, plus rains the last couple of days, triggered the damaging overflows.

Violent weather raked the midlands Tuesday and during the night but the storms diminished and rain appeared nearly ended in most areas.

Tornadoes ripped across parts of Iowa and Missouri. Severe thunderstorms pounded sections of Illinois, Missouri and southern Wisconsin. No injuries were reported.

The floods claimed at least six deaths—3 in Missouri, 2 in Nebraska and 1 in Illinoiss. Property damage was extensive.

Forget It, City Slickers

Farm Credit Speakers Say Country Life Isn't Simple

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Like a lot of us city slickers, you've probably hankered for a long time to settle down on a farm and live the quiet, simple life.

But speakers at a week-long conference on farm credit, indicate that it's anything but quiet, and their statistics indicate it's anything but simple.

Farmers, like some of the rest of us, are up to their ears in debt — and if they're not, they just can't keep up with the agricultural Joneses.

The problem, as outlined by various speakers, is that farming is now a big business, and it has to be financed like big business. The little guy apparently faces tough hoeing.

Take this note from Lee R. Martin, of the University of Arkansas Department of Agricultural Economics:

"There seems to be general agreement among our profession that we aren't going to need—even by 1975—the additional product that increased efficiency in Southern agriculture will bring us."

To make his point, Martin said, "Let us commence with some elementary considerations of capital." Then, he added, "We take as the production function 'Y equals F (X1, X2, X3...Xn)'."

This is a formula to show that farm income is related to productivity times the increment to income per acre of land used.

Remember that we said about it not being simple?

Other speakers made the point it takes an investment ranging from $30,000 to more than $100,000 to operate a farm returning an annual income of about $3,500 —more than $500 below the median earning of semi-skilled workers in industry. This figures in the free labor of papa, mama and all the kids.

How about a nice garden in your back yard?

A-Test Ban Parley Cancels Today's Talks

GENEVA, (AP) — The nuclear test suspension conference called off its session today while the American and British delegations boned up on the proposals agreed on by President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The conference since last Thursday has postponed its meetings each day to await the outcome of the Eisenhower-Macmillan talks.

U.N. To Open Africa Debate Immediately

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. Security Council decided today to plunge immediately into a discussion of the South African racial conflict despite protests of the South African government.

The 11-nation Council met as the South African situation boiled anew with a march of 30,000 Negroes on the Cape Town police station where some Negro leaders were held. A state of emergency was called.

The South African problem was placed on the Council agenda without a formal vote, but Britain, France and Italy declared for the record they had some reservations as to the U.N.'s jurisdiction.

South Africa has taken the position throughout that the racial problem is purely a domestic matter.

South Africa's chief delegate, Bernardus Gerhardus Fourie, flew from Cape Town to oppose any U.N. debate on the race issue. Diplomats predicted, however, the council would quickly approve an Asian-African request to discuss the police shooting last week that killed 72 South African Negroes.

Teamsters Union Gets Foothold In Barnyard

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)— The Teamsters Union got a foot in New Jersey's barnyard Tuesday when 1,000 poultry farmers shouted acceptance to join the controversial union.

The farmers, from the poultry areas of Vineland and Lakewood, had invited Teamsters President James R. Hoffa to address them Tuesday night.

Six Mothers Form Team To Save Children

RANDOLPH, Mass. (AP) — Six young mothers functioned like a well-drilled rescue team when two of their children fell into a swamp pond Tuesday.

Lisa Fahey, 5, broke through melting ice with Jeanne Grace, 6, and David Montt Jr., 4, but Lisa was able to scramble ashore. Her shrill cry, "David and Jeannie are sinking," spread a neighborhood alarm.

Charlotte Coughlin heard it first. She ran toward the pond, several hundred feet away, shouting "The children! The children! They've fallen in!"

Soon five mothers were racing to the water's edge.

Mrs. Coughlin's sister, Lenore Wells, heard the shout and ran to Leisa Montt's home, then to the Grace home. Margaret Grace, on the telephone, passed the word to Rosemary Fahey, four houses away. The latter shouted next door to her sister, Margaret Donovan.

Mrs. Wells returned home and by telephone summoned police, firemen, a nurse, a priest and two doctors.

Humphrey, Kennedy Wait Wisconsin Vote

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota says he has the best voting record. Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts says his religion would never conflict with his duties if he becomes president.

Wisconsin's presidential primary is only six days away. As time grows short in the fight for the state's 31 votes at the National Democratic Convention, both candidates are striking harder at the issues they believe will determine their victory or defeat.

Kennedy said in Milwaukee Tuesday night, when pressed by a newsman, that his Roman Catholic religion would not stand in the way of his carrying out any public function.

"I will not accept dictation from any source," Kennedy said.

In a television speech, Kennedy said his religion does enter into the campaign but whether he wins or loses he does not believe it will be because of his religious convictions.

2 Condemned To Hang For Slaying Of 4

GARDEN CITY, Kan. (AP) — Two young felons who gambled that multiple murder would shield them from the consequences of a botched robbery have been condemned to hang.

Richard Eugene Hickock, 28, of Edgerton, Kan., and Perry Edward Smith, 31, of Las Vegas, Nev., were convicted Tuesday of killing four members of a prominent farm family last Nov. 15.

Both men admitted participating in the crime. They said they killed so their victims couldn't identify them as the men who looted the home of Herbert W. Clutter near here.

But Hickock and Smith disagreed as to who fired shotgun shells into the heads of Clutter, 48; his wife, Bonnie, 45; a son, Kenyon, 15; and a daughter, Nancy, 16.

Verdict Seen Today In Motel Holdup Case

LISBON — A verdict was expected this afternoon in the armed robbery trial of James H. Maras, 20, of Warren, indicted for the Dec. 11 holdup of a Salem area motel.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard delivered his charge to the jury late this morning after closing arguments were completed at 11.

Maras was indicted along with his brother, Edmond Maras, and Charles Harris for the gunpoint robbery of $650 from the Barnett Motel of Route 62, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Nick Rini. Edmond Maras, who escaped from an Illinois jail, still is being sought by police. Harris was killed in a police battle in Illinois in January.

James Maras testified Tuesday he was at home at the time of the crime, and his mother — Mrs. Mary Maras — and a family neighbor — Harry Brown — backed his alibi.

2 Condemned To Hang For Slaying Of 4

GARDEN CITY, Kan. (AP) — Two young felons who gambled that multiple murder would shield them from the consequences of a botched robbery have been condemned to hang.

Richard Eugene Hickock, 28, of Edgerton, Kan., and Perry Edward Smith, 31, of Las Vegas, Nev., were convicted Tuesday of killing four members of a prominent farm family last Nov. 15.

Both men admitted participating in the crime. They said they killed so their victims couldn't identify them as the men who looted the home of Herbert W. Clutter near here.

But Hickock and Smith disagreed as to who fired shotgun shells into the heads of Clutter, 48; his wife, Bonnie, 45; a son, Kenyon, 15; and a daughter, Nancy, 16.

Verdict Seen Today In Motel Holdup Case

LISBON — A verdict was expected this afternoon in the armed robbery trial of James H. Maras, 20, of Warren, indicted for the Dec. 11 holdup of a Salem area motel.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard delivered his charge to the jury late this morning after closing arguments were completed at 11.

Maras was indicted along with his brother, Edmond Maras, and Charles Harris for the gunpoint robbery of $650 from the Barnett Motel of Route 62, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Nick Rini. Edmond Maras, who escaped from an Illinois jail, still is being sought by police. Harris was killed in a police battle in Illinois in January.

James Maras testified Tuesday he was at home at the time of the crime, and his mother — Mrs. Mary Maras — and a family neighbor — Harry Brown — backed his alibi.

Notice! Members of Local Union 141. Election of delegates to convention, Thurs. April 14, 7:30 p.m. All members urged to be present. By order of President. — Ad.

Lotus Ware Origin Traced By Speaker At Rotary Club

The story of East Liverpool's most famous trademark — Lotus ware — and the pioneers of the pottery industry responsible for its production here in the 1890's, was related to the Rotary Club Tuesday by Atty. William H. Vodrey Jr., an ardent collector of the finest bone china ever made in America.

Lotus ware, once disregarded by housewives as inferior to foreign-made china but now so valuable that it is owned mostly by old East Liverpool families and collectors, was produced by the old Knowles, Taylor & Knowles plant on Bradshaw Ave. between 1889 and 1897.

Sought by admirers of fine china throughout the country, Lotus ware is recognized now as a collector's gem of ceramic art and is distinctive for its elaborately-decorated clusters of delicate ornaments and velvet-like white glaze.

Atty. Vodrey, speaking at the club's noon luncheon in the Travelers Hotel, traced Lotus ware from its initial production in 1889 under the leadership of Homer Knowles, a partner in the company, to 1897 when production halted as key personnel left the firm.

The formula for Lotus ware was worked out successfully by Homer Knowles and Joshua Poole, a plant superintendent who came from Ireland to aid in production. Poole was manager of the famous Belleck Pottery in Western Ireland before coming to East Liverpool to join the Knowles firm, Atty. Vodrey said.

With the formula solved, the first set was modeled and decorated in 1889. Because of the difficulty in finding workmen skilled in handling bone china, the firm imported George and William Morley from England and Henry Schmidt, a German artist, for technical assistance.

Schmidt, whose talents at decorating were unknown to American potters, worked in secrecy in a small workshop to design and apply lavish ornaments to the tall, graceful vases and varieties of bowls. He worked with a tool which resembled a bakery shop decorating instrument to apply the lacy-like patterns to the ware, Atty. Vodrey said.

Before the ware was decorated by the German craftsman, who was jibed at by clay shop employes as a "fancy worker" but termed an "artist" by the firm's officials, other processes were necessary.

The first step in making the new ware, Atty. Vodrey pointed out, was to calcine bones from a city slaughterhouse. Bones were cooked in a vat until the meat dropped away and then placed in kilns and burned to a powdery ash, a "smelly" operation which sometimes infuriated residents.

Schmidt received the ware in a hard, green state and turned out the first Lotus ware with such elaborate designs that they have never to this day been reproduced in such fine quality.

"The Lotus ware was fired in the same kilns as hotel and restaurant ware," Atty. Vodrey continued," and much of it was broken in the firing process through the bisque, gloss and decorating kilns."

He explained that the high losses from breakage resulted in low production and high costs and signaled the eventual disappearance of Lotus ware from the market.

Production halted when Col. John N. Taylor, founder of the firm, turned his attentions to politics and other matters. Homer Knowles died and W. A. Knowles moved to California.

Knowles, Taylor & Knowles exhibited the Lotus ware in the World's Fair in Chicago in 1893 and the exhibits of pottery won many awards, Atty. Vodrey said.

The search for Lotus ware goes on by collectors. Paul Brunner, a Dayton real estate operator, has assembled the first collection in only a year and a half, Vodrey commented.

The Brunner collection is now on display at the Ohio State Museum in Columbus.

The East Liverpool Historical Society also has a display of Lotus ware in the Carnegie Library.

Atty. Vodrey presented R. Max Gard of near Lisbon, an antique dealer, who aided in the program. Several elaborately - decorated pieces of Lotus ware were on display. Charles D. Taylor, president, presided.

Area Motorist Cited In Y. & O. Rd. Crash

Two cars received considerable damage in a collision on the Y. & O. Rd. just west of Route 30 near the Sub-station Tuesday night at 6:15, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A 1951 sedan driven by John McCullough, 63, of R. D. 1 made a turn in front of another car operated by Lloyd Cusick, 43, of Lisbon R. D. 2. The crash occurred near McCullough's home.

McCullough's car and Cusick's 1959 sedan were damaged, but the drivers were unhurt, officers said. McCullough was charged with making an improper turn, and is due for a hearing before County Judge Earl Spalding at East Palestine.

Wellsville Man Cited For 'Abusing Officer'

Kenneth G. Curry, 56, of Wellsville R. D. 1 was given a suspended fine of $25 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge filed by Patrolman Charles A. Winters that he "abused a police officer by use of derogatory remarks."

Officer Winters testified he took Curry into custody as a result of an incident about 8:30 this morning at 5th and Market Sts. He said "Curry walked up to me with a complaint, as he frequently does, and then started to shout at the top of his voice."

The officer testified that Curry shouted: "Take off your coat. I'm a cowboy and I can whip you." Police said Curry, has been loitering on downtown streets for about a week.

Convention Delegates Picked By Kaycee Unit

Elected as alternates were Robert Graham and John Kozora, deputy grand knight.

Plans were announced for the all night vigil Holy Thursday, April 14. The vigil will begin following the 8 p. m. Mass and conclude Friday, April 15, at 8 a. m. Prokop asked members to sign for participation.

Mr. Butler Does It Again

Paul Butler has built a reputation for his ability to leave mouths gaping in astonishment at his unorthodox methods as chairman of the Democratic party. What he did last weekend must have turned some of the astonishment to horror.

After a conference of party bigwigs in the Midwest declared its adamant insistence upon a tough civil rights plank for the presidential campaign platform, Mr. Butler informally urged "loyal" Democrats in the South to send delegations to the national convention in opposition to the traditional Dixiecrat bloc that most certainly will oppose the rights stand.

IT IS HARD to imagine how a political leader could commit a greater heresy. The national chairmen of both parties have dreaded in the past such battles royal as the worst ailments that could plague them. Their value as party leaders has been judged by the skill with which they could put a coat of glossy enamel over splits and holes in the organization fence and make it look as though everything was holding together is blended strength.

This has been particularly true of the Democrats, who every presidential year have come to the arithmetical conclusion that Dixiecrats are necessary to a party victory and appeasement of segregationists is therefore the only practical policy.

Paul Butler did not come out of that mold. He has told the Dixiecrats to go jump before and apparently he was not just shoving air around. In this he seems to believe that the only way the Democrats can make a showing against the GOP on civil rights is to stop playing mumbo-jumbo with the party element dedicated to preserving segregation.

THAT THIS forthright attitude could have a divisive effect on the national convention and the electorate in November worries a lot of Democrats, particularly those running for office, and it seems a foregone conclusion Mr. Butler will not be the chairman after a candidate has been selected. It would be disastrous if the party were to conduct it campaign under the leadership of an accomplished unity-shatterer.

But the fact remains that someone had to tell the Dixiecrats to go jump if the Democratic party were to have a chance of appealing to all the people interested in the enforcement of the national policy of equal civil rights.

Mr. Butler has done that, and though he may leave the scene in a blaze of fiery dissension, he will have done his party a service by making it face the fact of thorny southern blockism instead of continuing to believe in the myth of total unity.

They're Off And Running

The Nation Vs. James Hoffa

The latest report of the Senate Labor-Management Committee does not tell us anything new about the sort of man James R. Hoffa is. It only fills in more details of the sordid story if the Teamster boss and his henchmen.

But these details underscore again the public's interest in breaking Hoffa's hold on a large segment of the labor movement.

If it were simply a matter of the welfare of the Teamsters Union members, it could perhaps be left to them to decide the fate of their president.

If it were simply a matter of the reputation of the labor movement itself, it could perhaps be left to the rest of organized labor to deal with him, although in trying to dissociate themselves from him the leaders of the AFL-CIO have had to cut the lines of communication that they could use to bring pressure on him.

But there is more to it than that.

The Senate report charges that a national crime syndicate is on the rise, using its connections with the Teamsters Union leaders and a few other union officials to gain underhanded control over the national economy.

The report charges that investigative attention was the only thing that blocked a plot to use $300,000 in Teamster funds to smuggle arms to Cuba and the Dominican Republic in 1959.

These are matters of public concern and they cannot be left to other hands.

The stakes are high for Hoffa, so he fights with every trick and strategy he can lay his hands on. He has been successful so far.

But the stakes are higher on the other side, for the future of our economic integrity and the welfare of the nation's citizens depend on the outcome.

That is why the Senate committee says the courts and executive agencies as well as Congress must devote themselves to delivering the "Sunday punch" that will crack the power of James Hoffa.

Nothing less will be sufficient.

'Doc' Will Retire

A familiar uniformed figure will be missing from Chester's streets as the result of Floyd (Doc) Lyons' decision to retire after 30 years as chief of police.

"Doc" became chief in 1930 and, except for a brief period when he suffered an injury to his leg, devoted the greater part of each day to his duties. For the first 15 years in the post he was on duty 7 days a week and 12 or more hours a day. Few have followed a more rigorous hourly schedule, regardless of the profession.

"Doc" will be missed by his many friends when he fails to walk his familiar beat.

What College Is For

Unaware of what prompted the Oberlin College student poll on academic pressures and unwilling to speculate on what action the school's officials may take as a result of it, we nevertheless have some passing thoughts on its revelations.

More than half of the students said the pressure of their school work is too great, that they have to do too much studying on Fridays and Saturdays with too little time left over for sleeping, dating and extracurricular activities.

Certainly no one favors the production of unbalanced personalities to guide our future society. Everyone needs relief from the tensions of his endeavors and this is perhaps more true of young people in their formative years than of any other age group.

But in view of the growing suspicion in recent years that higher education in the United States has been turning out personalities unbalanced on the side of ease and comfort, the Oberlin survey seems refreshing.

The axiom that education's purpose is as much to discipline for life as to impart specific knowledge has often been forgotten in the rush to keep up with the demands of our technological civilization. Even on the higher levels of public life we have seen examples of men profoundly skilled in the techniques of their jobs but profoundly ignorant of the currents of human relationships.

It is no coincidence that a college whose students feel the weight of academic pressure also ranks with the best of liberal arts institutions in the United States.

If its scholars have rated this pressure fairly, Oberlin deserves an "A" for making College something more than an "Era of Good Times" between the childishness of high school and the harshness of adult life.

The Once Over

AMERICANA JOTTINGS

Jed Hathaway, who's been in bad shape, is better. He was scared, the doctor says, by one of his wife's 1960 spring hats. Mrs. Minerva Whipple says she heard the first robin chirping yesterday but her husband insists it was just coughing and gargling.

Luke Gilligan has quit his job at the Mammoth Button Factory because he had to park his auto in the 51st row of the company parking lot. The company wouldn't arbitrate.

The Gabe Goslins, well-known hypochondriacs, have parted. The court let them split the medicine cabinet 50-50. Mrs. Goslin gets custody of the "Home Health Guide" six months of each year, with her husband getting similar consideration.

Luther Bimms is under psychiatric treatment. He has been behaving strangely. Stops on caution lights, reads "stop" signs, gives others a break at street intersections and all that sort of thing.

Wilbur Krissel, missing four days has been found. He got into a midget auto and was trapped.

"Chuck" Dunphy just got a permit to carry a gun after explaining that he watched all the private-eye telecasts and felt in danger when watching unarmed.

Mrs. Millicent Podge took a jet plane to Europe yesterday to kill time while the biscuits were baking.

Horace Skidder who sprained both ankles watching a ski-jumping contest on TV is resting comfortably.

There was a scandal at the last session of the Community Conference on Ethical Codes. One speaker had his watch stolen and the chairman lost his overcoat during the discussions.

Mrs. Frisby Goggins is suing her husband for a separation on the grounds he likes to stay home evenings and knows no night-club waiters by their first names.

It's been such a cold winter Chidsey Dufflebag, our town landscape man, advises everybody to make their daffodils go back to bed and take plenty of aspirin.

Jason Dooble and six helpers spent three days this week replacing three electric light bulbs in a nicolet marquee, and will nickelodeon take a few days overhauling a door knob.

"Jigger" Maltby cuts out all news of the summit conferences and disarmament sessions. He says he has been fooled often enough without making it a hobby.

SOME OF KHRUSHCHEV'S cockiness might be removed if he had to take a few trips with a French taxi driver.

Our comment on Mickey Mantle's ailing knee is "Ya mean the Yanks want BOTH knees for that kind of money?"

The Air Force is cutting out KP duty. No longer will birdman at 2,000 feet be told "You've got to clean up those cigarette butts," and exlaim, "What? From HERE!"

A trip across town in New York especially in the theater hour is such an ordeal that a company now rents luxury buses, with a bar, to the host or hostesses throwing a combination dinner and theater party. Only $25 to $30, and how can you escape a nervous breakdown any cheaper? At present only the society folks seem to be renting buses. But the middle class will soon go for it. The only danger is that retaliation will come when a luxury bus blocks a busload of common folks.

Labor Eyes Retirement Hotels

By Victor Riesel

Politics and proteins appears to be the slogan of a daring new venture called Four Freedoms Hotels, Inc.—a project now being launched by labor leaders with a Hilton touch. They plan to operate a string of resort hotels in sunny climes from Puerto Rico to Florida to California to the Hawaiian Islands to "temperate foreign countries."

Victor Riesel

These imagainative labor chiefs are ready to move on the protein, publicity and political fronts. Their menus are ready.

They hope to open their first hotel by giving the President of the United States a gold key so he can be the first—if momentary—guest.

And they say the hostels will be dedicated to labor's political action program. Rates —two in a room—will run from $25 to $30 a week with three squares—big ones, too—thrown in.

BUT DON'T RUSH to apply. Most of you have plenty of time, though there already are negotiations for some 100-room hostelries at about $500,000 each and one 200-room resort which will take $1,600,000 to purchase and refurbish.

Most of you have time because the Four Freedoms Hotels are for the elderly retired folk only. And the majority of these will be retired union members.

Union retirees will be preferred by the sponsors who are operating out of the American Radio Assn. Plans Division.

This is the administrative pension, welfare and vacatinon section of the AFL-CIO sea-going communications unit led by William Steinberg out of his Manhattan office.

Among the other unions backing the project is big Joe Curran's National Maritime Union. Its leaders have just endorsed a $110,000 investment in Four Freedoms Hotels.

This will give the NMU representation on the board of directors and assure 70 retired sailors places in the first of the cooperative hotels.

Curran and his colleague, Steinberg, are militant labor men, so it is not surprising to find that politics will be among the offerings to the retirees. Here specifically is what the hotel leadership has to say:

"The political aspect is as unlimited as the board of directors wish them (sic) to be. The content is strong enough to capture the wide support of the American public, particularly the elderly and retired who are in the position today of depending on a limited income that is rapidly depreciating."

WITH THIS BOW towards inflation, the promoters then continue:

"With the participation of the trade unions, the future of Four Freedoms Hotels is unlimited. They can be established in key cities throughout the United States as well as the world.

"They can provide trade unionism with another strong weapon in the constant fight against conservation and reactionaruism (sic). This happy solution to a comfortable old age will make for better and stronger union men and the carrying out of this project will be another reason for the non-union member to join up."

Underlying this project of the former CIO men is the realization that there are 13 million men and women now eligible for social security.

This is a frank admission that the older folks among us represent a strong voting bloc which has not been politically organized by anyone since Doc Townsend himself. This hotel project—which offers gay resort spots, swimming pools and a bountiful table as well as geriatric care—is not the only move by unions to keep their retirees organized.

The United Auto Workers, led by Walter Reuther, has set up pensioners' social clubs. And last Wednesday New York labor brought 6,000 older people out to a rally for the Forand bill—and the New York leaders hope to keep the retirees organized.

Protein and politics can be a powerful combination.

An ABC On Nuclear Issue

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

This is an ABC on recent steps the West and the Soviet Union have taken toward that historic moment when they can sign a formal agreement to ban nuclear tests.

There is more than just the danger and threat of death from the fallout of nuclear tests. The Soviets seem worried about the inevitable development of nuclear weapons in nations around them.

Only three nations now — the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union — have been able to develop nuclear weapons. But France has had its first atomic explosion, which is preliminary to development of nuclear bombs.

In time Red China will be in the nuclear club. Further, if in time the United States provides its allies with nuclear weapons, the Soviet Union can hardly avoid doing the same for Red China. While the Chinese Communists are Soviet allies now, the day may soon come when they will be rivals.

The United States, the Soviet Union and Britain have suspended nuclear tests—above ground, at least—while their emissaries at Geneva talked of working out an agreement by which they would formally ban tests. Those talks have been going 16 months.

One of the great stumbling blocks to agreement has been Soviet unwillingness to let foreign inspectors loose on Soviet soil to check against cheating.

The one field where even inspection teams might be fooled now is in underground tests of a size no bigger than the Hiroshima blast in 1945. Blasts smaller than that can sometimes be confused with earthquakes. Science hasn't developed a foolproof method of quake and the small underground distinguishing between the earth-nuclear test.

A month ago the United States proposed that the Big Three sign an agreement banning large-scale tests which are easy to check. The small underground tests were to be excluded from the agreement until there was discovered a foolproof system of checking on them, too.

But, as always, this country insisted there be a control system —if there was agreement against the big tests—to check against cheating. A little over a week ago the Soviets made a concession.

They agreed to sign a ban on large tests altogether and permanently—with controls — but both sides would have to agree not to do underground testing, either, for perhaps four or five years. In that time scientists of both countries were to seek some way of detecting for sure any underground tests made. After that the two sides could formally agree on banning them, too.

This was a Soviet switch. The Soviets had finally dropped their demand for a formal agreement banning all tests. It may have seemed like a small concession—Soviet willingness to rely on the word of the Big Three that underground tests would be suspended, without formal agreement on a total ban. But it had significance.

Psychologically and from a propaganda standpoint the Soviets' switch made them look good. It put the United States and Britain on the spot. So Harold Macmillan, the British Prime Minister, flew over here to talk with President Eisenhower.

After talking for hours at Eisenhower's Camp David, the two men proposed to the Soviet Union they'd agree to a short-term ban on underground tests if the Soviet Union would agree first to a treaty banning big blasts with cheat-proof inspection.

Eisenhower and Macmillan, one of their spokesmen said, think the short-term, voluntary ban on underground tests should last about a year.

Meantime, the two men proposed, the Soviet Union could join with their two countries in trying to develop a scientific method of detecting the small underground shots.

The proposed agreement to ban nuclear tests by no means involves giving up nuclear weapons. The ban on the tests would simply mean the three nations wouldn't be developing new and more powerful ones. There can be no disarmament until the Big Three agree not to make new weapons.

Down Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — One case of scarlet fever was reported in Newell, one in Chester, two in New Cumberland and 30 in the Weirton and Holidays Cove district.

Mrs. Clara Bibbee was elected worthy high priestess at a meeting of the Wellsville White Shrine of Jerusalem.

An estimated 185 attended the 91st annual inspection of Wellsville Masonic lodge 180.

Harry Abrams took office as mayor of Chester.

High Cost Of Inflation

By David Lawrence

Medical Care Plan Would Bring New Spiral

Inflation may be temporarily checked but the bill for past inflation is now up for payment. The American people are about to be asked, for example, to pay in increased taxes the cost of higher medical expenses for the aged.

David Lawrence

Naturally, union - labor leaders, who have been in large part responsible for the inflationary wave of prices in the last few years, are sponsors of the new program of medical care to be paid by the government out of new taxes. But the largest number of citizens who may have to foot the bill is to be found among the self-employed and the farm and city workers who are not members of labor unions.

The union-labor leaders want the social security tax base to be increased from $4,800 a year to $6,000.

This means that employers would have to pay an additional 420 million dollars, while workers and self-employed would have to pay 520 million. But there are only eight million workers with incomes between $4,800 and $6,000 a year, and they would pay about 200 million a year, whereas the eight million workers with incomes above $6,000 a year would pay an increase of more than 320 million.

THIS WOULD MEAN a diminution in weekly take-home pay and, of course, it could result in new demands by the unions for increased wages from employers to take care of this "cut" in wages for those who have to pay the higher tax.

Incidentally, under the labor-backed plan, about 57 million persons with incomes of $4,800 a year or less—including most trade-union members—wouldn't pay any increase in social security taxes but would eventually receive the benefits and so would their aged relatives now.

Under the bill proposed by Rep. Forand (D-RI), however, the social security base would stay at $4,800, but the tax rate would be increased for everybody paying social security taxes.

Workers would pay 570 million more, and employers 530 million more, or a total of $1,100,000,000 more per year. All of the 73 million persons, therefore, now subject to social security taxes and employers of 66 million hired workers would pay more in taxes than at present.

All this is supposed to be for "medical care for the aged." Nobody knows just how much the program is really going to cost eventually but, once the scheme for adding to social security taxes to absorb the medical costs gets going, the increases will come as the medical costs continue to rise.

It so happens that over the last weekend some interesting figures were announced by the U.S. Department of Labor about the increase in the nation's living costs for the month of February. The reasons given for the rise were two-fold: "Higher interest rates and higher medical costs."

MORTGAGE - INTEREST rates have risen steadily since the middle of 1958 as the Eisenhower administration has been forced to compete for funds in the five-year or less category of securities because the Democratic party in Congress stubbornly has refused to let the law of supply and demand operate to bring interest rates down.

As for the rise in medical costs, these are due to the increased expenses at hospitals and medical institutions which are, in turn, largely due to inflation.

Many of the co-operative private agencies that issue insurance policies for medical care have recently had to increase their premium charges because of the higher cost of medical service.

It is not surprising that President Eisenhower has come out against the plan to increase social security taxes and favors instead a plan by which the expenses would be met out of general revenues. The outlays, moreover, would be confined to those who are in need. The administration program is described as a "voluntary medical insurance plan for the needy aged."

There has been some talk about the whole problem becoming an issue in the coming presidential campaign. It should be. For the American people are going to have to decide sooner or later whether or not they want a "cradle-to-the-grave" welfare program, with certain taxpayers providing the money for everybody, including those who are well able to take care of the medical expenses of their parents and grandparents.

The issue, of course, lends itself to political misrepresentation. Already some of the Democratic presidential candidates are trying to make it appear that the administration is opposed to medical care for the aged, which just isn't true.

THE ADMINISTRATION, to be sure, doesn't want to see a medical program started by the government that would lead to "socialized medicine," with the deterioration in medical service that has characterized such programs in other countries.

Actually, at the end of 1958, a total of 17 million persons already had major medical insurance, as compared to 100,000 at the end of 1951. Also, the figures for the year 1959 are expected to show a further big increase in the amount of medical insurance among those who are 65 years or older.

The problem can be handled for the most part by the citizens themselves, through insurance programs at small fees per month.

As for the needy, the federal and state governments are necessarily obligated to bear that cost. But it will be small compared to the welfare programs being proposed in Congress today to be paid for through various devices that call for increases in social security tax rates.

Oozonia

By Truman Twill

Everybody's name is Mud between the time of the thaw and the time of the dry-out.

This is when the streams overflow and every low place develops a rivulet of its own. The sound of nature is an endless gurgling of water seeking its own level. Oozonia is the capital of the world.

Even on flat surfaces water forms in pools and puddles. Everything floats, including rocks.

There are no firm surfaces anywhere. Roads turn to pie crust. Firm turf becomes a mesh of fibrous roots covering concealed lakes and streams.

Lanes and the surfaces of berms cannot bear the weight of a child, let alone the weight of an automobile or a truck.

The sites of new construction look like a handful of sticks dropped into a butterscotch pudding that never hardened.

A dog on a rampage can leave more tracks in a few minutes than all the movie stars have left in the wet concrete of their shrine in Hollywood.

Children lose overshoes in the primordial ooze like reindeer shedding antlers when they need a new set.

In the long span of history—the one whose other end cannot be located—man's longest fight has been to clamber out of the slime and muck to a place of safety on a high rock. He hasn't made it yet.

He has learned to put down sidewalks to walk on, but only within the last few generations and only inside cities.

He has learned to cover roadways with non-soluble surfaces, but he has only begun to learn how to anchor the surfaces so they will stay firm when the dirt beneath them turns to ooze.

He has learned to protect his feet with protective gear, but he has not learned and is never going to learn how to keep the gear where it needs to be when he needs it.

He has performed the impossible, as when he lifted Missouri out of the mud, but he is no closer than he was before to training his children and his animals to stay out of the stuff.

Each year when the bottom of the world falls out, he is back where he started from an aeon ago—knee deep in Oozonia. It's frustrating.

But most of all it's morale-shattering, because men do not relish reminders that their real enemy is not the scientific mish-mash they are encouraged to brood about but the ooze from which their ancestors crawled. It is lapping at their toes, ready to reclaim them if they slow down.

In every prolonged war, mud settles the issue. It is the one thing man cannot surmount. He can compromise with it, make deals with it, go around it and encounters it head-on he's stuck.

The closest thing to a triumph over mud was the mud-boat, a conveyance built according to a design that predated the wheel. It was a sled with broad runners that slithered over the surface of the earth in the mud season, provided a team of horses could find enough footing to pull it. If the footing failed, the horses could take refuge on the mud boat, alongside the driver. Sometimes they stayed there until the dry-out, which didn't happen some years until the end of April.

The first U. S. president to throw out a baseball at an opening ceremony for a major league baseball season was William Howard Taft, in 1910.

Mr. Butler Does It Again

Paul Butler has built a reputation for his ability to leave mouths gaping in astonishment at his unorthodox methods as chairman of the Democratic party. What he did last weekend must have turned some of the astonishment to horror.

After a conference of party bigwigs in the Midwest declared its adamant insistence upon a tough civil rights plank for the presidential campaign platform, Mr. Butler informally urged "loyal" Democrats in the South to send delegations to the national convention in opposition to the traditional Dixiecrat bloc that most certainly will oppose the rights stand.

IT IS HARD to imagine how a political leader could commit a greater heresy. The national chairmen of both parties have dreaded in the past such battles royal as the worst ailments that could plague them. Their value as party leaders has been judged by the skill with which they could put a coat of glossy enamel over splits and holes in the organization fence and make it look as though everything was holding together is blended strength.

This has been particularly true of the Democrats, who every presidential year have come to the arithmetical conclusion that Dixiecrats are necessary to a party victory and appeasement of segregationists is therefore the only practical policy.

Paul Butler did not come out of that mold. He has told the Dixiecrats to go jump before and apparently he was not just shoving air around. In this he seems to believe that the only way the Democrats can make a showing against the GOP on civil rights is to stop playing mumbo-jumbo with the party element dedicated to preserving segregation.

THAT THIS forthright attitude could have a divisive effect on the national convention and the electorate in November worries a lot of Democrats, particularly those running for office, and it seems a foregone conclusion Mr. Butler will not be the chairman after a candidate has been selected. It would be disastrous if the party were to conduct it campaign under the leadership of an accomplished unity-shatterer.

But the fact remains that someone had to tell the Dixiecrats to go jump if the Democratic party were to have a chance of appealing to all the people interested in the enforcement of the national policy of equal civil rights.

Mr. Butler has done that, and though he may leave the scene in a blaze of fiery dissension, he will have done his party a service by making it face the fact of thorny southern blockism instead of continuing to believe in the myth of total unity.

The Nation Vs. James Hoffa

The latest report of the Senate Labor-Management Committee does not tell us anything new about the sort of man James R. Hoffa is. It only fills in more details of the sordid story if the Teamster boss and his henchmen.

But these details underscore again the public's interest in breaking Hoffa's hold on a large segment of the labor movement.

If it were simply a matter of the welfare of the Teamsters Union members, it could perhaps be left to them to decide the fate of their president.

If it were simply a matter of the reputation of the labor movement itself, it could perhaps be left to the rest of organized labor to deal with him, although in trying to dissociate themselves from him the leaders of the AFL-CIO have had to cut the lines of communication that they could use to bring pressure on him.

But there is more to it than that.

The Senate report charges that a national crime syndicate is on the rise, using its connections with the Teamsters Union leaders and a few other union officials to gain underhanded control over the national economy.

The report charges that investigative attention was the only thing that blocked a plot to use $300,000 in Teamster funds to smuggle arms to Cuba and the Dominican Republic in 1959.

These are matters of public concern and they cannot be left to other hands.

The stakes are high for Hoffa, so he fights with every trick and strategy he can lay his hands on. He has been successful so far.

But the stakes are higher on the other side, for the future of our economic integrity and the welfare of the nation's citizens depend on the outcome.

That is why the Senate committee says the courts and executive agencies as well as Congress must devote themselves to delivering the "Sunday punch" that will crack the power of James Hoffa.

Nothing less will be sufficient.

'Doc' Will Retire

A familiar uniformed figure will be missing from Chester's streets as the result of Floyd (Doc) Lyons' decision to retire after 30 years as chief of police.

"Doc" became chief in 1930 and, except for a brief period when he suffered an injury to his leg, devoted the greater part of each day to his duties. For the first 15 years in the post he was on duty 7 days a week and 12 or more hours a day. Few have followed a more rigorous hourly schedule, regardless of the profession.

"Doc" will be missed by his many friends when he fails to walk his familiar beat.

What College Is For

Unaware of what prompted the Oberlin College student poll on academic pressures and unwilling to speculate on what action the school's officials may take as a result of it, we nevertheless have some passing thoughts on its revelations.

More than half of the students said the pressure of their school work is too great, that they have to do too much studying on Fridays and Saturdays with too little time left over for sleeping, dating and extracurricular activities.

Certainly no one favors the production of unbalanced personalities to guide our future society. Everyone needs relief from the tensions of his endeavors and this is perhaps more true of young people in their formative years than of any other age group.

But in view of the growing suspicion in recent years that higher education in the United States has been turning out personalities unbalanced on the side of ease and comfort, the Oberlin survey seems refreshing.

The axiom that education's purpose is as much to discipline for life as to impart specific knowledge has often been forgotten in the rush to keep up with the demands of our technological civilization. Even on the higher levels of public life we have seen examples of men profoundly skilled in the techniques of their jobs but profoundly ignorant of the currents of human relationships.

It is no coincidence that a college whose students feel the weight of academic pressure also ranks with the best of liberal arts institutions in the United States.

If its scholars have rated this pressure fairly, Oberlin deserves an "A" for making College something more than an "Era of Good Times" between the childishness of high school and the harshness of adult life.

They're Off And Running

Labor Eyes Retirement Hotels

By Victor Riesel

Politics and proteins appears to be the slogan of a daring new venture called Four Freedoms Hotels, Inc.—a project now being launched by labor leaders with a Hilton touch. They plan to operate a string of resort hotels in sunny climes from Puerto Rico to Florida to California to the Hawaiian Islands to "temperate foreign countries."

Victor Riesel

These imaginative labor chiefs are ready to move on the protein, publicity and political fronts. Their menus are ready.

They hope to open their first hotel by giving the President of the United States a gold key so he can be the first—if momentary—guest.

And they say the hostels will be dedicated to labor's political action program. Rates —two in a room—will run from $25 to $30 a week with three squares—big ones, too—thrown in.

BUT DON'T RUSH to apply. Most of you have plenty of time, though there already are negotiations for some 100-room hostelries at about $500,000 each and one 200-room resort which will take $1,600,000 to purchase and refurbish.

Most of you have time because the Four Freedoms Hotels are for the elderly retired folk only. And the majority of these will be retired union members.

Union retirees will be preferred by the sponsors who are operating out of the American Radio Assn. Plans Division.

This is the administrative pension, welfare and vacatinon section of the AFL-CIO sea-going communications unit led by William Steinberg out of his Manhattan office.

Among the other unions backing the project is big Joe Curran's National Maritime Union. Its leaders have just endorsed a $110,000 investment in Four Freedoms Hotels.

This will give the NMU representation on the board of directors and assure 70 retired sailors places in the first of the cooperative hotels.

Curran and his colleague, Steinberg, are militant labor men, so it is not surprising to find that politics will be among the offerings to the retirees. Here specifically is what the hotel leadership has to say:

"The political aspect is as unlimited as the board of directors wish them (sic) to be. The content is strong enough to capture the wide support of the American public, particularly the elderly and retired who are in the position today of depending on a limited income that is rapidly depreciating."

WITH THIS BOW towards inflation, the promoters then continue:

"With the participation of the trade unions, the future of Four Freedoms Hotels is unlimited. They can be established in key cities throughout the United States as well as the world.

"They can provide trade unionism with another strong weapon in the constant fight against conservation and reactionaruism (sic). This happy solution to a comfortable old age will make for better and stronger union men and the carrying out of this project will be another reason for the non-union member to join up."

Underlying this project of the former CIO men is the realization that there are 13 million men and women now eligible for social security.

This is a frank admission that the older folks among us represent a strong voting bloc which has not been politically organized by anyone since Doc Townsend himself. This hotel project—which offers gay resort spots, swimming pools and a bountiful table as well as geriatric care—is not the only move by unions to keep their retirees organized.

The United Auto Workers, led by Walter Reuther, has set up pensioners' social clubs. And last Wednesday New York labor brought 6,000 older people out to a rally for the Forand bill—and the New York leaders hope to keep the retirees organized.

Protein and politics can be a powerful combination.

An ABC On Nuclear Issue

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

This is an ABC on recent steps the West and the Soviet Union have taken toward that historic moment when they can sign a formal agreement to ban nuclear tests.

There is more than just the danger and threat of death from the fallout of nuclear tests. The Soviets seem worried about the inevitable development of nuclear weapons in nations around them.

Only three nations now — the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union — have been able to develop nuclear weapons. But France has had its first atomic explosion, which is preliminary to development of nuclear bombs.

In time Red China will be in the nuclear club. Further, if in time the United States provides its allies with nuclear weapons, the Soviet Union can hardly avoid doing the same for Red China. While the Chinese Communists are Soviet allies now, the day may soon come when they will be rivals.

The United States, the Soviet Union and Britain have suspended nuclear tests—above ground, at least—while their emissaries at Geneva talked of working out an agreement by which they would formally ban tests. Those talks have been going 16 months.

One of the great stumbling blocks to agreement has been Soviet unwillingness to let foreign inspectors loose on Soviet soil to check against cheating.

The one field where even inspection teams might be fooled now is in underground tests of a size no bigger than the Hiroshima blast in 1945. Blasts smaller than that can sometimes be confused with earthquakes. Science hasn't developed a foolproof method of quake and the small underground distinguishing between the earth-nuclear test.

A month ago the United States proposed that the Big Three sign an agreement banning large-scale tests which are easy to check. The small underground tests were to be excluded from the agreement until there was discovered a foolproof system of checking on them, too.

But, as always, this country insisted there be a control system —if there was agreement against the big tests—to check against cheating. A little over a week ago the Soviets made a concession.

They agreed to sign a ban on large tests altogether and permanently—with controls — but both sides would have to agree not to do underground testing, either, for perhaps four or five years. In that time scientists of both countries were to seek some way of detecting for sure any underground tests made. After that the two sides could formally agree on banning them, too.

This was a Soviet switch. The Soviets had finally dropped their demand for a formal agreement banning all tests. It may have seemed like a small concession—Soviet willingness to rely on the word of the Big Three that underground tests would be suspended, without formal agreement on a total ban. But it had significance.

Psychologically and from a propaganda standpoint the Soviets' switch made them look good. It put the United States and Britain on the spot. So Harold Macmillan, the British Prime Minister, flew over here to talk with President Eisenhower.

After talking for hours at Eisenhower's Camp David, the two men proposed to the Soviet Union they'd agree to a short-term ban on underground tests if the Soviet Union would agree first to a treaty banning big blasts with cheat-proof inspection.

Eisenhower and Macmillan, one of their spokesmen said, think the short-term, voluntary ban on underground tests should last about a year.

Meantime, the two men proposed, the Soviet Union could join with their two countries in trying to develop a scientific method of detecting the small underground shots.

The proposed agreement to ban nuclear tests by no means involves giving up nuclear weapons. The ban on the tests would simply mean the three nations wouldn't be developing new and more powerful ones. There can be no disarmament until the Big Three agree not to make new weapons.

High Cost Of Inflation

By David Lawrence

Medical Care Plan Would Bring New Spiral

Inflation may be temporarily checked but the bill for past inflation is now up for payment. The American people are about to be asked, for example, to pay in increased taxes the cost of higher medical expenses for the aged.

David Lawrence

Naturally, union - labor leaders, who have been in large part responsible for the inflationary wave of prices in the last few years, are sponsors of the new program of medical care to be paid by the government out of new taxes. But the largest number of citizens who may have to foot the bill is to be found among the self-employed and the farm and city workers who are not members of labor unions.

The union-labor leaders want the social security tax base to be increased from $4,800 a year to $6,000.

This means that employers would have to pay an additional 420 million dollars, while workers and self-employed would have to pay 520 million. But there are only eight million workers with incomes between $4,800 and $6,000 a year, and they would pay about 200 million a year, whereas the eight million workers with incomes above $6,000 a year would pay an increase of more than 320 million.

THIS WOULD MEAN a diminution in weekly take-home pay and, of course, it could result in new demands by the unions for increased wages from employers to take care of this "cut" in wages for those who have to pay the higher tax.

Incidentally, under the labor-backed plan, about 57 million persons with incomes of $4,800 a year or less—including most trade-union members—wouldn't pay any increase in social security taxes but would eventually receive the benefits and so would their aged relatives now.

Under the bill proposed by Rep. Forand (D-RI), however, the social security base would stay at $4,800, but the tax rate would be increased for everybody paying social security taxes.

Workers would pay 570 million more, and employers 530 million more, or a total of $1,100,000,000 more per year. All of the 73 million persons, therefore, now subject to social security taxes and employers of 66 million hired workers would pay more in taxes than at present.

All this is supposed to be for "medical care for the aged." Nobody knows just how much the program is really going to cost eventually but, once the scheme for adding to social security taxes to absorb the medical costs gets going, the increases will come as the medical costs continue to rise.

Chester Republicans To Meet Friday Night

A meeting of Chester Republicans will be held Friday night at 7:30 in the City Hall, Lawrence Cline, chairman, announced.

Committeemen and committeewomen of the five city wards will attend the meeting to become better acquainted with voters of their respective wards, Cline said.

A committee will be named to meet out-of-town candidates who visit the city. Refreshments will be served.

Fumes Overcome North Side Man

A North Side man was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes from an unvented gas hot water heater at 3:40 a. m. today, according to city firemen who were called to administer oxygen.

Firemen used a resuscitator on Richard T. Sisley, 1218 Northside Ave., who collapsed after getting out of bed and going to a door for fresh air.

Mrs. Sisley awoke with a severe headache and told her husband. He got up with her to go to the door, collapsing just as he opened the door. Mrs. Sisley notified the firemen.

The fumes apparently were coming from the hot water heater in the cellar, which was not vented.

Firemen responded to two other minor calls Tuesday. A grass fire was extinguished on Wedgewood St. at 12:10 p. m. and assistance was given a Jefferson St. woman who had locked her self out of her home at 7:35 p. m.

Chester Driver Fined For Route 66 Collision

A Chester motorist was fined $10 and costs for driving left of center following a 2-car collision at 7:26 a. m. Tuesday on Route 66 between Newell and New Cumberland.

Robert R. Eaton, 60, of 153 Carolina Ave., attempted to pass another vehicle without adequate clearance and his auto hit headon with the car of Mrs. Delores Watson, 30, of Weirton near the entrance to Waterford Park race track, Hancock County sheriff's deputies said.

Both drivers were treated at City Hospital for injuries received in the crash. Eaton appeared before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester.

Lament Of A Suburbanite

'Green Hell', Not Thumb

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The train leaving for the suburbs was late as usual.

Worn from the rigors of the office day, Ronald Halfacre, America's typical suburbanite, dropped his briefcase by the bar rail and ordered a double scotch.

Oscar, the bartender, slid the drink across the mahogany. Ronald took a deep gulp, closed his eyes and sighed.

"Whatsa matter, Mr. Halfacre," asked the bartender, "spring fever got you?"

"No," said Ronald vehemently. "Spring hatred!"

"How come? Most of the commuters who come in say spring is wonderful in the suburbs."

"All commuters are liars!"

"That I've known for some time," said Oscar. "I'm a big city boy myself, and always will be. But from what you commuters tell me, I thought when winter let go its icy grip the suburbs ceased to be a white wonderland and became a green Eden of joy."

"They become a green hell," replied Ronald, "if commuters would only admit the truth. Oil me again, Oscar, and I'll tell you about it."

"To begin with," said Ronald, "I'll have to take down the storm windows. Then I'll have to get out the paint brush and touch up the porch.

"My wife will tie a rag around her head, get out the mop and start moving the furniture. She calls it spring cleaning. It will take only two weeks out of her life, but it will take two years off mine.

"Shortly after the back porch collapses from termite damage, the roof gutters will rust apart and then the crab grass will begin ruining the front lawn."

"By then the d---d song birds will be back, and there'll be no more sleeping," went on Ronald a bit wildly. "They cackle from 3 a.m. until dusk, at which time the teen-agers next door will start a rock 'n' roll party.

"Oh, yes, and the garden. No matter how often I spray it, the bugs get healthier and the vegetables get sicker.

"But worst of all is the outdoor cooking," mumbled Ronald, breaking into tears. "As a kid I quit the Boy Scouts because I hated eating over campfires. But when you live in the suburbs, if you don't burn three out of every four meals over charcoal in the backyard, they throw you out of the PTA as a subversive."

"Hey, Mr. Halfacre," said Oscar, shaking his arm. "Your train just pulled out without you."

"Let it go," said Ronald. "I wish I could miss them all between now and November. Pour me another double. Hey, tell me, what's spring like in the city? I've forgotten what real happiness is."

The two drowned Sunday in the Little Miami River in a boating mishap.

Many American hostesses are not observing the rules of fine service when they place a teacup directly on a tea plate without adding a saucer. Use that saucer! It keeps the cup from jiggling and makes tea-drinking comfortable!

Air Raid Sirens Blare As Wires Get Crossed

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Somebody got his wires crossed Tuesday and every air raid siren in the city blared away for 10 minutes.

An embarrassed telephone company official said a repairman had crossed wires. No one seemed to mind too much — except the conductor of a band playing in a downtown park. He called City Hall and demanded an end to the noise.

Extends Clemency

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has extended executive clemency to two convicted slayers serving life terms—Clarence Warner, 72, of Hamilton County, and Horton Kelly, 42, of Cleveland. The action makes them eligible for parole. Kelly was convicted of killing a Cleveland tailor, Harry Reinhart, 52, in 1936. Warner has served 34 years for the slaying of Police Marshal Henry Knapp.

'Warm Weather Exuberance' Termed Menace On Highways

After weeks of driving at a plodding pace on highways covered with snow or ice, East Liverpool district motorists have shown a tendency to speed and take chances in traffic as a result of exuberance brought on by spring weather, Police Chief Americo Radeschi commented today.

"I hate to see drivers getting away from the smoother, more careful practices they followed at the wheel when pavements were treacherous," the chief said. "The officers have reported seeing drivers trying to get away fast when the lights change and jamming on brakes at the last moment when a stop is necessary — things they didn't dare try in foul weather."

In anticipation of increasingly heavy traffic in warm spring weather, the chief issued three tips to drivers:

1. Be patient. It's dangerous to rush into a changed mode of driving. Even highly-experienced drivers need time to adjust to new situations and higher speed patterns. Traffic will be heavier. Some streets and highways have chuckholes as a result of winter weather and will need repair before they are entirely safe.

Obey all traffic laws. With reduced emphasis on motoring trips during the winter, it's possible to become a little rusty on the rules of the road. Now is a good time to brush up on local and state traffic laws and obey them.

3. Aim for the best, but be prepared for the worst. Anticipate the possibility that "even you" could have an accident.

The chief also renewed an appeal for use of auto safety belts to help avoid serious injury to persons involved in collisions.

"If a driver or passenger is held by a seat belt which meets the standards set by the Society of Automotive Engineers, he escapes the danger of being slammed out onto the pavement against some fixed object or being hit by another vehicle," Chief Radeschi said.

He cited studies made by the Air Force and Cornell University Medical College which showed that persons protected by seat belts "survive most accidents with a minimum of injuries." He pointed out that use of seat belts in private cars has been advocated by the National Safety Council, American Medical Association and the U. S. Public Health Service.

Blue Cross Patients Leaving Hospital Sooner, Report Says

CLEVELAND (AP)—Which patient stays longest in the hospital —the one with hospitalization or the one who is paying his own way?

The Citizens Hospital Study Committee looked into that question and discovered, surprisingly, that patients covered by Blue Cross of Northeast Ohio are leaving hospitals half a day earlier, on average, than patients not so covered.

The committee was trying to find out whether Blue Cross patients are staying in the hospitals longer than necessary. The study group reported it found no evidence this was the case.

The report is one of a number being made by the committee in an effort to track down the cause of rising hospital costs and rising hospitalization premiums.

The committee, headed by William L. West, studied 52,289 cases in Cuyahoga County over a three-month period and found that Blue Cross patients spent an average of 8.3 days in the hospital while non-subscribers averaged 8.8 days.

The committee, made up of representatives of labor, business, industry and the medical profession, has been working more than four years to analyze hospital costs and usage in relation to Blue Cross costs. Further reports will be made shortly on other factors influencing hospital costs.

The committee report said there has been a substantial reduction in recent years in length of hospital stays for many categories, particularly in childbirth cases. In 1940, mothers stayed in hospitals an average of 12 days; new mothers now get out in six days.

At the same time, coverage has been extended from a maximum 21 days of care in 1940 to 120 days for anyone needing it today.

3. Aim for the best, but be prepared for the worst. Anticipate the possibility that "even you" could have an accident.

The chief also renewed an appeal for use of auto safety belts to help avoid serious injury to persons involved in collisions.

"If a driver or passenger is held by a seat belt which meets the standards set by the Society of Automotive Engineers, he escapes the danger of being slammed out onto the pavement against some fixed object or being hit by another vehicle," Chief Radeschi said.

He cited studies made by the Air Force and Cornell University Medical College which showed that persons protected by seat belts "survive most accidents with a minimum of injuries." He pointed out that use of seat belts in private cars has been advocated by the National Safety Council, American Medical Association and the U. S. Public Health Service.

Blue Cross Patients Leaving Hospital Sooner, Report Says

CLEVELAND (AP)—Which patient stays longest in the hospital —the one with hospitalization or the one who is paying his own way?

The Citizens Hospital Study Committee looked into that question and discovered, surprisingly, that patients covered by Blue Cross of Northeast Ohio are leaving hospitals half a day earlier, on average, than patients not so covered.

The committee was trying to find out whether Blue Cross patients are staying in the hospitals longer than necessary. The study group reported it found no evidence this was the case.

The report is one of a number being made by the committee in an effort to track down the cause of rising hospital costs and rising hospitalization premiums.

The committee, headed by William L. West, studied 52,289 cases in Cuyahoga County over a three-month period and found that Blue Cross patients spent an average of 8.3 days in the hospital while non-subscribers averaged 8.8 days.

The committee, made up of representatives of labor, business, industry and the medical profession, has been working more than four years to analyze hospital costs and usage in relation to Blue Cross costs. Further reports will be made shortly on other factors influencing hospital costs.

The committee report said there has been a substantial reduction in recent years in length of hospital stays for many categories, particularly in childbirth cases. In 1940, mothers stayed in hospitals an average of 12 days; new mothers now get out in six days.

At the same time, coverage has been extended from a maximum 21 days of care in 1940 to 120 days for anyone needing it today.

Practical Politics Course Explained To Chester Club

A political participation program for businessmen was discussed by E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager of the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night.

The U. S. Chamber - designed course, "Action Course In Practical Politics," has been conducted recently in East Liverpool, and will be repeated starting April 6.

The course does not involve political issues, and is designed solely to give individuals a better knowledge of the mechanics of politics — of selecting, nominating and electing citizens to public office.

Chandler said, "We all can be blamed for the apathy toward public affairs, and it is time we take a greater interest in the matter and learn to understand politics.

"Apathy of the citizens is very serious; even the Communists believe we are going to destroy ourselves in a socialistic trend," he said.

The course covers nine 2-hour sessions with a discussion leader in charge, and participants are provided with pamphlets on background material.

The topics include individuals in politics, party organization, precincts, campaigns, party clubs, political leaders' problems, political meetings and businessmen in politics.

The club is considering sponsoring a course in Chester for anyone interested.

Chandler was introduced by Robert Douglass, program chairman.

Raymond Stevens, secretary, reported the club ranked second in the district for achievement reports in February.

Guests were Delbert Cooper, Dale Allison, Kent Manley, James Waggle, Charles Taylor and Reid Calcott, a Key Club member.

Harry Ossman, second vice president, was in charge.

300 Inmates Wait Transfer To New Lebanon Center

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Three hundred inmates of Mansfield Reformatory will be transferred to the new Lebanon correctional institution by July 1, it was announced by M. C. Koblentz, state corrections chief.

Inmates now housed at the new institution in Warren County are assigned to a nearby honor camp that is being renovated.

Koblentz said the state is now asking for bids on the five-million-dollar final phase of the Lebanon construction program, scheduled for completion in late 1961. Still to be constructed are six more cellblocks, two scores of workshops, a laundry and a gymnasium.

More than 10,000 persons visited the new institution in a recent four-day open house. When the Lebanon institution, and a similar institution in northern Ohio, are completed, Mansfield Reformatory will be made into a maximum security prison to ease overcrowding at Ohio Penitentiary.

Jobless Coal Miner Gets Life In Prison

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—John Styrcula was sentenced to life imprisonment Tuesday after he pleaded guilty to a charge of second-degree murder. He had been on trial for first-degree murder.

The 52-year-old unemployed coal miner interrupted his trial, in progress a week, to enter the plea of guilty to the lesser charge. He was accused in the stabbing death of William T. Motley, 81, of nearby Big Five, last Dec. 18 at the victim's home. Judge Ross Michener sentenced Styrcula.

Driver Forfeits $70

LISBON — Wilbur Whan, 36, of Leetonia R. D. 2 forfeited $70.80 bond Tuesday in County Judge James L. MacDonald's court on a charge of driving an overloaded truck. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol which said it was 4,100 pounds overloaded.

Steel Output Drop Looms

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel production will drop sharply in April and May unless a wave of new orders supports the market, Iron Age said today.

The metalworking weekly listed three main causes for the disappointing rate of current orders:

1. Severe cutbacks in automotive production ahead, already reflected in cancellations and deferments.

2. Cutbacks in railroad freight car programs which had been expected to sustain the heavy steel market.

3. Inventory control practices in which even major users are operating with as little steel in stock as possible.

Iron Age noted, however, that some plus factors may soften the April-May drop it expects. These were some seasonal support from users who completed inventory control and will resume normal buying geared to consumption, export business (especially cold-rolled sheets for Europe, where there is a shortage of rolling capacity) and capital spending by industry for products that go into new plants and equipment.

At present, Iron Age said, the stainless steel market is hardest hit because a large percentage of stainless capacity operated through last year's steel strike. Users thus were in relatively good shape regarding stocks when the strike ended and the market "correction" first occurred there.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

American Schools Lag In Arithmetic

A recent study by Dr. Guy T. Buswell concerning achievement in arithmetic by elementary school children in England and California reveals that the English children are far ahead. In all European countries, grade-school children spend more time on arithmetic than do our children, and begin each step in the subject—hard addition and subtraction, multiplication, division and the like — much earlier than ours. Grandparents in the United States have observed that the elementary school child today begins the various number processes from one to two years later than when they themselves were school children.

By Garry Meyer.

AN ILLUMINATING study of great interest to parents and teachers was published last year—"Teaching the Third R: A Comparative Study of American and European Textbooks in Arithmetic" by Doctors Charles H. Schutter and Richard L. Spreckelmeyer.

Typical American textbooks in arithmetic are compared with those of European countries.

In the first and second grades the number of hours per week devoted to arithmetic are as follows: Austria, 4; Belgium, 6; Czechoslovakia, 3; Denmark, 5; France, 3¾; Holland, 4; Hungary, 5; Ireland, 3; Italy, 3; Yugoslavia, 6; United States, 2 to 2½.

In grades three, four, five and six, the corresponding hours per week are: 5, 6, 4, 6, 5, 6, 5, 4, 3, 5, as against 3 to 3 2-3 hours per week in the United States.

THE GRADES in which multiplication and division tables up to 10's are introduced are England, 3; France, 2; Germany 3; Greece, 3; Holland, 2; Poland, 3; Sweden 2; United States, 4.

Addition with carrying, and subtraction with borrowing, begin from the second to the third grade in European countries, but at grades 3A or 4B in the United States.

Division with 2 or 3 - digit numbers begins at the third or fourth grade in Europe, at the fifth grade in our country.

Addition and subtraction of common fractions begin in Europe at about a grade earlier than with us.

In European schools, algebra and geometry begin in the seventh year of school.

"GENERALLY SPEAKING European children enjoy approximately a two-year advantage over their American counterparts by the time they enter their ninth year of study," reports the study mentioned above.

At the University of Maryland, the Mathematics Project, which has already compiled a text for the seventh grade, aims at approaching the European goal.

What do you think about this matter?

Check Charge Case Dropped

A case in which a Wellsville man was accused of issuing a fradulent $90 check Jan. 26 to the Central Service Co. at Newell came to an abrupt end Tuesday in Municipal Court when Atty. Donald E. Smith, counsel for the auto agency and also the complaining witness, asked to withdraw his affidavit.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff then dismissed the charge Atty. Smith had filed against Alexander (Boots) Wright, 933 Commerce St. The attorney had alleged that Wright gave the check to the Newell concern as part of the down payment on an auto, but payment was refused by the Potters Bank & Trust Co., on which the check was drawn, because Wright had no account there.

The motion to withdraw the affidavit was made before completion of the prosecution case. Atty. Smith had testified, then was followed to the stand by Frank Mangano of Newell, general manager of Central Service. A recess was called during Mangano's testimony and the motion for dismissal followed.

As a result of the abrupt end of the trial, there was no decision on jurisdictional problems posed in the case because of the fact an Ohio man allegedly presented a fraudulent check to a West Virginia concern, payment was refused by an Ohio bank and the case was taken before an Ohio court.

American Schools Lag In Arithmetic

By Garry Meyer.

A recent study by Dr. Guy T. Buswell concerning achievement in arithmetic by elementary school children in England and California reveals that the English children are far ahead. In all European countries, grade-school children spend more time on arithmetic than do our children, and begin each step in the subject—hard addition and subtraction, multiplication, division and the like — much earlier than ours. Grandparents in the United States have observed that the elementary school child today begins the various number processes from one to two years later than when they themselves were school children.

AN ILLUMINATING study of great interest to parents and teachers was published last year—"Teaching the Third R: A Comparative Study of American and European Textbooks in Arithmetic" by Doctors Charles H. Schutter and Richard L. Spreckelmeyer.

Typical American textbooks in arithmetic are compared with those of European countries.

In the first and second grades the number of hours per week devoted to arithmetic are as follows: Austria, 4; Belgium, 6; Czechoslovakia, 3; Denmark, 5; France, 3¾; Holland, 4; Hungary, 5; Ireland, 3; Italy, 3; Yugoslavia, 6; United States, 2 to 2½.

In grades three, four, five and six, the corresponding hours per week are: 5, 6, 4, 6, 5, 6, 5, 4, 3, 5, as against 3 to 3 2-3 hours per week in the United States.

THE GRADES in which multiplication and division tables up to 10's are introduced are England, 3; France, 2; Germany 3; Greece, 3; Holland, 2; Poland, 3; Sweden 2; United States, 4.

Addition with carrying, and subtraction with borrowing, begin from the second to the third grade in European countries, but at grades 3A or 4B in the United States.

Division with 2 or 3 - digit numbers begins at the third or fourth grade in Europe, at the fifth grade in our country.

Addition and subtraction of common fractions begin in Europe at about a grade earlier than with us.

In European schools, algebra and geometry begin in the seventh year of school.

"GENERALLY SPEAKING European children enjoy approximately a two-year advantage over their American counterparts by the time they enter their ninth year of study," reports the study mentioned above.

At the University of Maryland, the Mathematics Project, which has already compiled a text for the seventh grade, aims at approaching the European goal.

What do you think about this matter?

Check Charge Case Dropped

A case in which a Wellsville man was accused of issuing a fradulent $90 check Jan. 26 to the Central Service Co. at Newell came to an abrupt end Tuesday in Municipal Court when Atty. Donald E. Smith, counsel for the auto agency and also the complaining witness, asked to withdraw his affidavit.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff then dismissed the charge Atty. Smith had filed against Alexander (Boots) Wright, 933 Commerce St. The attorney had alleged that Wright gave the check to the Newell concern as part of the down payment on an auto, but payment was refused by the Potters Bank & Trust Co., on which the check was drawn, because Wright had no account there.

The motion to withdraw the affidavit was made before completion of the prosecution case. Atty. Smith had testified, then was followed to the stand by Frank Mangano of Newell, general manager of Central Service. A recess was called during Mangano's testimony and the motion for dismissal followed.

As a result of the abrupt end of the trial, there was no decision on jurisdictional problems posed in the case because of the fact an Ohio man allegedly presented a fraudulent check to a West Virginia concern, payment was refused by an Ohio bank and the case was taken before an Ohio court.

Brother Testifies At Hearing

Ohioan Who Became Nazi Wants Citizenship Again

NEW YORK (AP)—A University of Chicago theological professor says his brother, who renounced American citizenship to become a Nazi, now understands freedom better than he does.

Dr. Joseph Sittler testified Tuesday at a hearing before the Immigration and Naturalization Service. His brother, Dr. Edward V. Sittler, a former Ohioan, has petitioned the service to regain his American citizenship.

The Chicago professor said his brother's actions were "possibly impetuous, hasty and unwise sometimes."

He said his brother's letters from Nazi Germany indicated a "deepening disenchantment" vith Hitler's government as time passed.

Edward Sittler told the hearing that when he renounced his citizenship in 1940 to work for the Nazis, he had no idea that Germany and the United States might go to war.

Sittler, now 44, said his political understanding was immature in 1937 when he went to Germany at the age of 21 to study. He acknowledged joining the Naxi part later and broadcasting propaganda for Hitler during World War II.

"I couldn't see any harm to be done," Sittler said. "Nobydy could take these broadcasts seriously."

Records of some of Sittler's broadcasts were played at the hearing.

Sittler said he applied for German citizenship in 1939 because he felt that country was "up against a crucial test" with enemies in Europe and "needed a helping hand."

The professor resigned from the faculty of C. W. Post College of Long Island University last December when his past came under attack.

A government spokesman said Sittler never has been tried for treason because he still is a German citizen. Several Americans who retained their citizenship while working for the Naxis during the war have been convicted of treason. Sittler testified against some of them.

It was brought out at the hearing that another of Sittler's brothers, Charles, also went to Germany and participated in radio work during the war. A government spokesman said Charles Sittler retained his American citizenship but never was tried for treason because of lack of evidence.

Asked by reporters where Charles Sittler now lives, Edward Sittler replied:

"He is living in this country but not in this area and I would rather not disclose where. He is just one of about 100 others who did the same thing and they are not being bothered like I am."

Walkout At Air Force Missile Center Ends

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A walkout of more than 3,000 construction workers ended Tuesday night at this base—the only U.S. installation with operational long-range missiles.

The walkout began Monday when the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers complained that the Philco Corp., was bringing in tradesmen to work for less than the prevailing journeyman electrician's wage, $4.35 an hour.

The walkout ended when negotiators agreed to hold up work on the project at issue pending further discussion on the dispute. Only about 25 or so workmen are affected, the Air Force said.

Assemblyman Charles D. Stone will be the speaker. A representative of the Beaver County Bar Association also may attend.

Aged Becoming Concentrated In Ohio's Smaller Counties

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Residents 65 years of age and older are becoming concentrated in Ohio's smaller counties, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle notes.

A state report showed that nearly nine per cent of Ohio's 9½ million residents in mid-1959 were in the 65 and over bracket.

The governor said the concentration in the smaller counties indicates that young people prefer industrial centers where job opportunities are brighter.

Meigs County, with a population of 22,899 last July, was tops with 16.5 per cent of its residents, or 3,778 persons, in the surveyed age bracket.

Because agriculture is falling off small counties may become isolated unless industry takes up the slack, DiSalle added. He predicted that the percentage of those 65 and over statewide would continue to increase.

Morgan County ranked second in the study with 1,747 of its 10,919 population in the group for 16 per cent.

The Department of Industrial and Economic Development, which made the study, has estimated Ohio's present population at nearly 10 million. It stood at 9,644,683 last July 1.

Major county figures for the oldsters were:

Cuyahoga, where 1,665,988 people lived, had 138,277 older residents for a percentage of 8.3; Lucas 41,714 oldsters for 8.8 per cent of 474,026 population; Hancock 5,236 for 10.4 per cent of 50,346; Franklin 51,538 for 7.6 per cent of 678,134; Clark 13,106 for 9.9 per cent of 132,381; Montgomery 40,707 for 7.9 per cent of 515,281 and Hamilton 81,370 for 9.5 per cent of 856,523.

Puerto Rico Is Contrast Of Wealth And Poverty

By OSCAR L. MORRIS
Editor, Salisbury Times

Operation BIG SLAM dumped a chunk of new wealth on Puerto Rico, and the Commonwealth can use it.

Puerto Rico is a contrast of wealth and poverty. Until a few years ago sugar cane was the main crop. Now there's a booming tourist trade, with luxurious hotels.

The island actively is seeking industry under a government-sponsored plan. And industry is beginning to build a stronger middle class in Puerto Rico as workers leave the cane fields for factories and better pay.

-:-

THERE ARE TWO San Juans—the capital city, the old and historic city of slums, and the section with beautiful touches of Spanish architecture.

Souvenir shops are competing for business. Bars are open until the last customer goes home. The new hotels are in the brand new section of San Juan, things of beauty, with lobby and dining rooms open to the air.

They are on broad streets, as contrasted with the narrow streets of old San Juan.

But the taxi driver takes the streets, wide or narrow, with abandon. As a matter of course the speedometers are disconnected. The taxis seem to have two speeds—a steady 50 miles an hour in traffic or out of it, and a sudden dead halt.

And there's a constant beep-beep-beep of the horn.

WE ASKED the driver about the horn. He blew for intersections. He blew for other cars. He blew to clear a path. He blew to pass. And then he blew in the middle of the block, on a virtually traffic-free street.

But he waved a hand as though making a left turn and pointed, "My girl lives there."

Natives say taxi prices jumped with the coming of BIG SLAM, the big airlift maneuver of the Army and Military Air Transport Service (MATS).

Certainly the number of shoeshine boys did. They roam the streets, youngsters of 6 and 8. They know three English phrases, "Shine," "A quarter" and "Thank You." But they do give a good shine and one suspects that a quarter is far above the going rate.

PUERTO RICANS are intensely interested in politics. There are three parties — the Government party headed by Gov. Luis Munoz-Marin, the Statehooders and the Independents. Mixed into them are the Republicans and Democrats with varying shades of opinion on statehood.

The government feels that the commonwealth status should be retained. The Independents want independence from the United States but they have dwindled to a minor force and a handful of speakers on the Public Square, and the Statehooders want statehood now and seek a vote on it.

Gov. Munoz' dual last name is an old Spanish custom, Munoz from his father and Marin from his mother. He's an advocate of progress.

A COMMISSION on industry is hard at work. His Department of Health has done away with insects almost completely. His followers believe he's building a stronger middle class.

BIG SLAM resumed Monday for those of us who played hookey on Sunday from military affairs and became tourists for the day.

At Ramey and Rossevelt Roads the planes still were landing, unloading, taking on new cargoes and troops and returning to the U.S. mainland with clockwork regularity.

The MATS C133 caught our eye. Named the Cargomaster, it's the only addition to the MATS fleet in many years. It can fly at altitudes of 30,000 feet at 300 miles an hour, and with tremendous payloads, up to 38.9 tons.

BUT BIG SLAM is doing a near-capacity job with old planes.

As our Cargomaster turbojet descended for a landing at Dover, Del., the crew got word it was needed right away at Bedford, Mass.

Off we went, without landing, to Bedford. Crew and passengers for Dover unloaded there and away went our plane. There we spent the night until another Cargomaster from Puerto Rico was directed to Bedford for us in the morning.

Dover was just an hour and a half away by air.

The steady use of planes and pulling them from flight to flight as needed while crews rested was watched closely by Army and Air Force officials and Defense Dpartment observers.

They call the operation a huge success, but urge that a program to modernize MATS with new and better planes should be started at once.

Road Commission Employes To Face State Crime Unit

CHARLESTON (AP) — Certain Road Commission employes will be summoned to appear here April 25 at the first working meeting of the State Crime Commission, Del. J. C. Cruikshank (D-Clay), a co-chairman, has reported.

Cruikshang added that "some personnel from another department will be summoned."

He declined to say which department, or about what the SRC employes will be questioned.

Cruikshank said he did not believe many of the witnesses would ask that newsmen be barred, as is their privilege under the commission rules.

"There might be some who choose to do this," he said, "but I don't look for very many."

The commission, established by the 1960 Legislature, is made up of five delegates and five senators. The other co-chairman is Sen. Clarence E. Martin Jr. (D-Berkeley). The commission has held only one meeting and that was to organize. It is empowered to look into all types of crimes in the state and to hire the help it needs.

The commission already has employed two investigators, but hiring is contemplated.

Puerto Rico Is Contrast Of Wealth And Poverty

By OSCAR L. MORRIS
Editor, Salisbury Times

Operation BIG SLAM dumped a chunk of new wealth on Puerto Rico, and the Commonwealth can use it.

Puerto Rico is a contrast of wealth and poverty. Until a few years ago sugar cane was the main crop. Now there's a booming tourist trade, with luxurious hotels.

The island actively is seeking industry under a government-sponsored plan. And industry is beginning to build a stronger middle class in Puerto Rico as workers leave the cane fields for factories and better pay.

-:-

THERE ARE TWO San Juans—the capital city, the old and historic city of slums, and the section with beautiful touches of Spanish architecture.

Souvenir shops are competing for business. Bars are open until the last customer goes home. The new hotels are in the brand new section of San Juan, things of beauty, with lobby and dining rooms open to the air.

They are on broad streets, as contrasted with the narrow streets of old San Juan.

But the taxi driver takes the streets, wide or narrow, with abandon. As a matter of course the speedometers are disconnected. The taxis seem to have two speeds—a steady 50 miles an hour in traffic or out of it, and a sudden dead halt.

And there's a constant beep-beep-beep of the horn.

WE ASKED the driver about the horn. He blew for intersections. He blew for other cars. He blew to clear a path. He blew to pass. And then he blew in the middle of the block, on a virtually traffic-free street.

But he waved a hand as though making a left turn and pointed, "My girl lives there."

Natives say taxi prices jumped with the coming of BIG SLAM, the big airlift maneuver of the Army and Military Air Transport Service (MATS).

Certainly the number of shoeshine boys did. They roam the streets, youngsters of 6 and 8. They know three English phrases, "Shine," "A quarter" and "Thank You." But they do give a good shine and one suspects that a quarter is far above the going rate.

PUERTO RICANS are intensely interested in politics. There are three parties — the Government party headed by Gov. Luis Munoz-Marin, the Statehooders and the Independents. Mixed into them are the Republicans and Democrats with varying shades of opinion on statehood.

The government feels that the commonwealth status should be retained. The Independents want independence from the United States but they have dwindled to a minor force and a handful of speakers on the Public Square, and the Statehooders want statehood now and seek a vote on it.

Gov. Munos' dual last name is an old Spanish custom, Munos from his father and Marin from his mother. He's an advocate of progress.

A COMMISSION on industry is hard at work. His Department of Health has done away with insects almost completely. His followers believe he's building a stronger middle class.

With the increasing tourist trade, he's promoting the restoration of old churches, houses and forts and is underwriting cultural projects, particularly in the field of music.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Is my boy friend right or am I? We hailed a taxi last night and my date saw two shiny dimes on the floor of the cab. He picked them up and slipped them into his pocket. He didn't think I saw him.

When we got out I told him I had seen him put the dimes in his pocket and, in my opinion, he should have given them to the driver.

He insisted the dimes belonged to a previous passenger and, therefore, he had as much right to them as anyone. How about this? —MISS M. BARRASSED.

Dear Miss M. Barrassed: "Losers weeper," eh? Well — I doubt that a taxi driver is going to sit around and weep about a couple of dimes but your boy friend should shed a few tears for the sad state of his moral health and personal integrity.

The dimes may well have been part of a previous passenger's fare — dropped in a hurry. It's a lead-pipe cinch the money did not belong to your boy friend.

Tell the last of the big spenders that he's my candidate for the March award for Small Potato of the Month — Cheapskate Division.

Stranger's View

Dear Ann: It is with a feeling of guilt and disloyalty that I write this letter. I wouldn't dare discuss this with anyone I know. I loathe women who speak disparagingly of their husbands but maybe a stranger can help me.

We've been married 25 years and I pray the Lord will grant us 25 more. I know I can't change him but why does a man have to exaggerate everything to the point where he is a liar?

I'm embarrassed to tears at the amused expressions on the faces of our friends when my husband blows up every story to ridiculous proportions.

If he owns four trucks, he makes it 24. If he invested $5,000 in a deal, he makes it $25,000. If he owns 10 per cent of a company, he says he's a 50-50 partner.

Please, Ann, what can I do to help him?—NEWARKITE.

Dear Newarkite: Exaggerators (and they are legion) fall into the habit early in life. Everything multiplies in their mouths.

They are insecure people for whom the straight story or the accurate figure is never strong enough. They want to knock everyone dead with their importance and they don't trust the truth to do it.

What the chronic exaggerator doesn't realize is that people catch on after a while. Then they believe NOTHING of what he says.

No one can help him. He must help himself.

Case Of Imposition

Dear Ann: I'm a girl 17 and my folks bought me a convertible for my birthday. There are four of us gals who always have been pretty close. I'm the only one who has a car.

One of the girls has been pestering me for my car ever since I let her use it to visit her mother in the hospital. Now she wants it for shopping and I suspect taking her boy friend to the bowling alley on his league night.

I hate to say "no" but if my folks knew, they'd be furious. What can I do without losing her friendship?—HARD TOP.

-:-

Dear Hard Top: Use your head for something besides a bobby-pin cushion. She's taking advantage of your generosity and you're a fool to permit it. A real friend wouldn't try to use you this way.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Girl Trying Scissors Cuts Up Tax Refund

LEE'S SUMMIT, Mo. (AP) — Cutting taxes is one thing but cutting tax refunds is something else, as 2½-year-old Patty Kay Clark learned Tuesday.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Clark Jr., was wandering about with a pair of scissors, looking for something on which to try them, when she found a slip of paper on top of the television set.

She was whacking busily when her mother found her—and discovered the remains of the family's $335.05 federal income tax refund check.

The Internal Revenue Service said it will issue a new one.

In Formosan Training

SALEM — Cpl. Robert A. McFarland and Lance Cpl. Charles E. Probert, both of Salem, took part in the landing exercise, "Operation Blue Star," March 22 off the coast of Formosa with units of the Okinawa-based 3rd Marine Division.

Appropriation Action Waited

Council will meet in adjourned session tonight at 8 to consider the annual appropriation ordinance, providing funds for all municipal operations in 1960.

Since Jan. 1, the city has been meeting its expenses under a temporary three-month appropriation that expires Thursday midnight. Meanwhile, the Council finance committee has been at work drafting the appropriation for the full year, based on estimates of income furnished by the county auditor's office.

Council agreed to consider the appropriation in adjourned session because its next regular meeting does not fall until Monday, April 4.

Four other pieces of new legislation are scheduled for presentation tonight.

They would:

Create the position of stenographer in the safety-service director's office so that both Director Lee Copenhaver and Mayor Bert H. Goodballet will have a full-time woman clerical employe.

Provide for purchase of three new traffic lights and five traffic signal controls to synchronize the lights controlling traffic from the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line to the downtown area.

Ask the Federal Power Commission to reopen a case in which it fixed rates for the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co., supplier to the Ohio Valley Gas Co. which serves East Liverpool.

Authorize Mayor Goodballet and Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper to enter into a contract with consultants and special counsel as part of a fight before the Public Utilities Commission by 8 riverfront communities on rate increases sought by the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 3 to 7 degrees above normal. Normal high 52 north to 58 south, normal low 32-37. Warmer Friday and Saturday, turning colder Sunday or Monday. Precipitation will average ½ to 1½ inches in showers or thundershowers Saturday and Sunday, possibly beginning late Friday.

Midland Group To Start Planning For July 4th

Plans for the July 4th celebration in Midland will be started at a meeting tentatively set April 6 at 7:30 p. m. in Council Chambers in the Borough Building, Burgess Eli G. Corak, announced.

Corak is general chairman of the celebration committee's executive group.

He also announced the appointment of John Mueller of the Midland News and Earl Rankin of the Review as publicity co-chairmen for the committee.

Boy Killed On Bike

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Is my boy friend right or am I? We hailed a taxi last night and my date saw two shiny dimes on the floor of the cab. He picked them up and slipped them into his pocket. He didn't think I saw him.

When we got out I told him I had seen him put the dimes in his pocket and, in my opinion, he should have given them to the driver.

He insisted the dimes belonged to a previous passenger and, therefore, he had as much right to them as anyone. How about this? —MISS M. BARRASSED.

Dear Miss M. Barrassed: "Losers weeper," eh? Well — I doubt that a taxi driver is going to sit around and weep about a couple of dimes but your boy friend should shed a few tears for the sad state of his moral health and personal integrity.

The dimes may well have been part of a previous passenger's fare — dropped in a hurry. It's a lead-pipe cinch the money did not belong to your boy friend.

Tell the last of the big spenders that he's my candidate for the March award for Small Potato of the Month — Cheapskate Division.

Stranger's View

Dear Ann: It is with a feeling of guilt and disloyalty that I write this letter. I wouldn't dare discuss this with anyone I know. I loathe women who speak disparagingly of their husbands but maybe a stranger can help me.

We've been married 25 years and I pray the Lord will grant us 25 more. I know I can't change him but why does a man have to exaggerate everything to the point where he is a liar?

I'm embarrassed to tears at the amused expressions on the faces of our friends when my husband blows up every story to ridiculous proportions.

If he owns four trucks, he makes it 24. If he invested $5,000 in a deal, he makes it $25,000. If he owns 10 per cent of a company, he says he's a 50-50 partner.

Please, Ann, what can I do to help him?—NEWARKITE.

Dear Newarkite: Exaggerators (and they are legion) fall into the habit early in life. Everything multiplies in their mouths.

They are insecure people for whom the straight story or the accurate figure is never strong enough. They want to knock everyone dead with their importance and they don't trust the truth to do it.

What the chronic exaggerator doesn't realize is that people catch on after a while. Then they believe NOTHING of what he says.

No one can help him. He must help himself.

Case Of Imposition

Dear Ann: I'm a girl 17 and my folks bought me a convertible for my birthday. There are four of us gals who always have been pretty close. I'm the only one who has a car.

One of the girls has been pestering me for my car ever since I let her use it to visit her mother in the hospital. Now she wants it for shopping and I suspect taking her boy friend to the bowling alley on his league night.

I hate to say "no" but if my folks knew, they'd be furious. What can I do without losing her friendship?—HARD TOP.

-:-

Dear Hard Top: Use your head for something besides a bobby-pin cushion. She's taking advantage of your generosity and you're a fool to permit it. A real friend wouldn't try to use you this way.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Girl Trying Scissors Cuts Up Tax Refund

LEE'S SUMMIT, Mo. (AP) — Cutting taxes is one thing but cutting tax refunds is something else, as 2½-year-old Patty Kay Clark learned Tuesday.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Clark Jr., was wandering about with a pair of scissors, looking for something on which to try them, when she found a slip of paper on top of the television set.

She was whacking busily when her mother found her—and discovered the remains of the family's $335.05 federal income tax refund check.

The Internal Revenue Service said it will issue a new one.

In Formosan Training

SALEM — Cpl. Robert A. McFarland and Lance Cpl. Charles E. Probert, both of Salem, took part in the landing exercise, "Operation Blue Star," March 22 off the coast of Formosa with units of the Okinawa-based 3rd Marine Division.

Appropriation Action Waited

Council will meet in adjourned session tonight at 8 to consider the annual appropriation ordinance, providing funds for all municipal operations in 1960.

Since Jan. 1, the city has been meeting its expenses under a temporary three-month appropriation that expires Thursday midnight. Meanwhile, the Council finance committee has been at work drafting the appropriation for the full year, based on estimates of income furnished by the county auditor's office.

Council agreed to consider the appropriation in adjourned session because its next regular meeting does not fall until Monday, April 4.

Four other pieces of new legislation are scheduled for presentation tonight.

They would:

Create the position of stenographer in the safety-service director's office so that both Director Lee Copenhaver and Mayor Bert H. Goodballet will have a full-time woman clerical employe.

Provide for purchase of three new traffic lights and five traffic signal controls to synchronize the lights controlling traffic from the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line to the downtown area.

Ask the Federal Power Commission to reopen a case in which it fixed rates for the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co., supplier to the Ohio Valley Gas Co. which serves East Liverpool.

Authorize Mayor Goodballet and Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper to enter into a contract with consultants and special counsel as part of a fight before the Public Utilities Commission by 8 riverfront communities on rate increases sought by the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Midland Group To Start Planning For July 4th

Plans for the July 4th celebration in Midland will be started at a meeting tentatively set April 6 at 7:30 p. m. in Council Chambers in the Borough Building, Burgess Eli G. Corak, announced.

Corak is general chairman of the celebration committee's executive group.

He also announced the appointment of John Mueller of the Midland News and Earl Rankin of the Review as publicity co-chairmen for the committee.

Boy Killed On Bike

Senate Gives Recommendations

West Virginia's Jobless Plight 'High' On Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The plight of West Virginia jobless areas looms large in a Senate committee report on the nation's unemployment problems.

The special committee frequently mentioned West Virginia in its report of nearly 200 printed pages dealing with hearings in West Virginia and other states.

And the problem of unemployment, the committee concludes, will get much worse in 10 years unless decisive action is taken.

Its majority recommendations included:

1. Policies to attain a rate of national economic growth high enough to give work opportunities for the nearly 4 million unemployed and the 25 million young people wanting jobs in the next 10 years.

2. Giving highest priority to an area redevelopment program.

3. A coal research and development agency as a step toward restoration of a strong economy in the coal regions.

4. A tax program to provide concessions to plants locating or expanding in distressed areas.

5. Establishing national standards for unemployment insurance.

6. Extension of federal grants to cover public assistance to the jobless.

7. Increased educational services, especially for vocational education.

8. Elimination of discrimination in employment.

The report said witnesses spoke eloquently of the extent of the human cost of unemployment. It then quoted a West Virginia county school superintendent as saying:

"Quite often children come to school without breakfast because there is no food in the house. Whenever we discover a condition like this we manage to feed them. Lack of food and respectable clothing causes a bad psychological reaction among the children. Much of the teachers' time is spent in trying to supply the children with necessities."

The committee, headed by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn) and with Sen. Jennings Randolph (D-WVa) serving as one of the members, offered both a majority and a minority report. The minority report was submitted by Sens. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.) Winston L. Prouty (R-Vt.) and Hugh Scott (R-Pa).

The study group, in considering the effects of government procurement policies on unemployment, said little or no defense work had been acquired by local industries in many labor surplus areas.

"West Virginia, which has consistently suffered one of the highest unemployment rates in the nation, has received only one tenth of one per cent of total military procurement contracts for each of the last three fiscal years," the report added.

Discussing the possibility of recurring recessions, the majority report said public works to be most effective must take effect as soon as a dangerous decline is apparent.

And such federal projects should be capable of being expanded rapidly, the committee added.

A proposed youth conservation corps was cited as a program which could be effectively expanded to meet such declines.

Concerning automation, the report said the soft coal mining industry offers a dramatic illustration of the displacement of men by machines.

In 1937, the industry produced over 445 million tons of coal with 491,864 employees, the committee said. In 1958, it produced 410 million tons with 195,000 workers.

The committee, which took testimony from 538 witnesses and received 130 additional statements, held hearings in a number of states. In West Virginia, it met at Welch, Beckley, Fayetteville, and Wheeling.

Bender Calls Group's Report On Teamsters 'Publicity Stunt'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Former U. S. Sen. George H. Bender says a Senate Rackets Committee report concerning the Teamsters Union is a "publicity stunt" and the union now is run "in as fine a manner as any union or any business organization in the country."

The Senate report Monday criticized Bender for his work for the Teamsters Union as head of its cleanup committee. The senators said they had no confidence that the committee which Bender headed for 15 months would "accomplish anything in the way of purging criminals and racketeers from the union."

Bender retorted: "I've done as conscientious a job as I could for the union and the public.

"We made more than 100 recommendations to the union's executive board to the effect that certain persons be separated from the union payroll."

The former Republican senator said all the recommendations were followed but declined to name any of those ousted from the union.

Among others, his committee investigated William Presser, chairman of the Ohio Conference of Teamsters, and N. Louis (Babe) Triscaro, another Cleveland Teamsters official, both of whom have been criticized by the Rackets Committee.

Bender said Triscaro and Presser "couldn't do anything wrong if they wanted to. They are watched, checked and re-checked and even wet-nursed on everything they do."

He said reports from the authorities in Ohio regarding the Teamsters Union "were very good."

Driver's Case Slated April 7

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today fixed a hearing Thursday, April 7, at 9 a. m. for Carroll Mills, 531 Jefferson St., Newell, on a charge of failure to stop after a traffic mishap Saturday night on Shadyside Ave.

The continuance was granted after Robert A. Steinberg of Pond St., owner of the other auto, indicated to the court Mills has been seeking to work out an insurance settlement for the damage to Steinberg's car.

Although the charge was read to him this morning, Mills did not enter a plea. He was taken into custody Tuesday night on a warrant signed by Steinberg, then released later on a $31 bond to appear this morning.

In the report to police on the accident, Steinberg said the entire left side of his car was damaged when struck by a hit-skip motorist. He obtained a license number which led to the filing of charges against Mills.

Judge Chertoff also continued a hearing until Wednesday, April 6, for Paul S. Berman of W. 4th St. Ext., charged with failure to stop for a stop sign at the intersection of County Rd. 424 and State Route 267. Berman was cited March 24 by the State Highway Patrol.

Meanwhile, William J. Cataldo, 1010 Crawford Rd., Wellsville, forfeited a $31 bond today on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone Tuesday on the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super-road." He also was cited by the patrol.

Motorists Get Warning On Using Old License

CLEVELAND (AP)— Cleveland Trafic Commissioner James P. Halloran warns that driving without 1960 license plates after midnight Wednesday could mean a jail sentence. In previous years, motorists caught with old license plates after the deadline were given tickets but never jailed.

Halloran warned of the possible stiffer penalties after checking with license bureaus and finding that more motorists than usual may be waiting until the last minute to buy their plates. Maximum penalty under the law is $200 fine and 30 days in jail, Halloran said.

Bridgeport Firm Low On Leetonia Project

Sutton & Stewart, Inc., of Bridgeport was apparent low bidder for improvement of three bridges and removal of a third on State Route 344 in Leetonia according to the Ohio Highway Department which opened bids Tuesday at Columbus.

The firm bid $79,246 on the replacement of two bridges and reconstruction of a third and removal of a fourth as part of a flood protection program for the community, now under way by Army Corps of Engineer.

The state's estimate for the project is $87,300. Completion date is Nov. 30.

Mishaps Send 5 To Hospital Here

A Wellsville railroad worker and a Midland Heights girl were among five youngsters and adults treated at City Hospital Tuesday following separate mishaps.

Robert B. Boyce, 55, of Wellsville R. D. 1, an employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., was treated for a bruise of the left knee suffered in a fall at work.

Carol Andrews, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Andrews of Midland Heights, was treated for a possible fracture of the left arm received in a fall at play.

James Davis, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Davis, 924 Peake St., suffered lacerations and bruises of the hand when struck by a metal milk crate at home.

Erma Whitehill of R. D. 2 was treated for a possible fracture of the right wrist received in a fall at home.

John Mays, 41, of Knox, Pa., was treated for an injury to the right hand suffered when an auto jack slipped while he was fixing a flat tire.

Organization Slated For Mineralogy Club

Organization of a new district mineralogy club will be held at a public meeting Thursday night at 7 at the Carnegie Library

Mrs. Betty Edgell of Andrews Ave. said anyone interested in geology, gem stones or other earth sciences is invited to the meeting at which officers will be elected.

Some 15 area persons have already indicated interest in such a group, including E. R. Chandler of Chester and County Commissioner R. Max Gard. Plans call for special programs at each meeting, and extension of the club's activities to interest young adults and high school pupils.

Area Boy Recovering From Tranquillizers

EAST PALESTINE — Jimmy Louk, 2½, of East Palestine, former Rogers area boy, is in "fair" condition today at Salem City Hospital where he was rushed by ambulance Tuesday after swallowing several tranquillizer pills.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Louk, 55½ E. Martin St., the youth had a "close call," according to East Palestine firemen who took him to the hospital. The child stopped breathing at one time while firemen were administering oxygen, they said.

Neff And Associates To Give Appeal Briefs

BEAVER — Defense counsel for Samuel G. Neff and three others was given until April 16 to submit briefs after arguments for appeal of conviction were heard Tuesday by 3 Beaver County Court judges.

Driver's Case Slated April 7

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today fixed a hearing Thursday, April 7, at 9 a. m. for Carroll Mills, 531 Jefferson St., Newell, on a charge of failure to stop after a traffic mishap Saturday night on Shadyside Ave.

The continuance was granted after Robert A. Steinberg of Pond St., owner of the other auto, indicated to the court Mills has been seeking to work out an insurance settlement for the damage to Steinberg's car.

Although the charge was read to him this morning, Mills did not enter a plea. He was taken into custody Tuesday night on a warrant signed by Steinberg, then released later on a $31 bond to appear this morning.

In the report to police on the accident, Steinberg said the entire left side of his car was damaged when struck by a hit-skip motorist. He obtained a license number which led to the filing of charges against Mills.

Judge Chertoff also continued a hearing until Wednesday, April 6, for Paul S. Berman of W. 4th St. Ext., charged with failure to stop for a stop sign at the intersection of County Rd. 424 and State Route 267. Berman was cited March 24 by the State Highway Patrol.

Meanwhile, William J. Cataldo, 1010 Crawford Rd., Wellsville, forfeited a $31 bond today on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone Tuesday on the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super-road." He also was cited by the patrol.

Motorists Get Warning On Using Old License

CLEVELAND (AP)— Cleveland Trafic Commissioner James P. Halloran warns that driving without 1960 license plates after midnight Wednesday could mean a jail sentence. In previous years, motorists caught with old license plates after the deadline were given tickets but never jailed.

Halloran warned of the possible stiffer penalties after checking with license bureaus and finding that more motorists than usual may be waiting until the last minute to buy their plates. Maximum penalty under the law is $200 fine and 30 days in jail, Halloran said.

Bridgeport Firm Low On Leetonia Project

The state's estimate for the project is $87,300. Completion date is Nov. 30.

Zoning cannot be retroactive and all zoning must be reasonable, Allton added.

Dear friends,

No business or profession, we presume, escapes price criticism. The invisible "overhead" costs are so often overlooked by the critics.

You will be interested in the fact that 60% of income in the funeral directing profession is absorbed in overhead costs. Salaries, depreciation, laundry, heat, light, water, telephones, contributions, rents, repairs, supplies, insurance, car upkeep, and many other expenses drain heavily. This problem is constantly before us.

Respectfully,

Richard R. Martin

Allton said there are nearly 400 townships in 46 Ohio counties which have planning and zoning ordinances.

Allton said zoning in either townships or communities starts with planning.

If zoning is adopted, it cannot be used on agriculture land or buildings if they now exist, Allton said, explaining that if that zoning comes right up to and includes some farm, the farmer has a legal right to still use his lands as he sees fit. Zoning cannot be retroactive and all zoning must be reasonable, Allton added.

Galen Greenisen, chairman of the council, presided.

'Some Good Looking Kids' With Chicago, Grimm Says

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—"We've got some pretty good looking kids," says Chicago Cubs Manager Charlie Grimm as he works to mould youngsters and veterans into a first-division club.

Again the name of Ernie Banks leads all the rest after the star shortstop won the National League's most valuable player award for a second straight year in 1959.

Best looking of the rookies has been right fielder Lou Johnson, a 25-year-old purchased from the Kansas City Monarchs Negro team in 1955. He hit over .300 with two Chicago farm clubs last season including .327 at San Antonio.

"We've had good pitching and good hitting in the spring games," observed Grimm.

Grimm hopes both Dick Drott and Moe Drabowsky, who won 15 and 13 in 1957, can pitch back to that form. Bob Anderson, who won 13 in 1959 and Glen Hobbie, with 16 triumphs, head the front-line pitching with Don Elston one of the best relief hurlers in the majors.

Veteran catcher Del Rice was signed after being released by Milwaukee and will work with the young hurlers. Other catching jobs remain open.

Dale Long tops the first base candidates but if rookie Johnson grabs an outfield job, George Altman could move in to see service at first.

Tony Taylor, a regular two seasons, goes at second with Banks at shortstop.

At third, the Cubs have high hopes for rookie Ron Santo, who hit .327 with San Antonio last year. Dick Gernert, acquired from the Red Sox in trade, can play either first or third.

If none of those come through, the Cubs have an experienced third sacker in Frank Thomas who came from Cincinnati in a big winter deal. Grimm prefers Thomas in left field with ex-Phillie Richie Ashburn in center.

Also in the outfield picture are Walt Moryn from the 1959 club and Bob Will, a .336 hitter at Fort Worth last season. Irv Noren, at 35, bids for a spot on the club also.

"I think we were helped defensively with our winter trades," Grimm declares. "We've just got to wait and see if the hitting comes through."

Hawks Defeat Celts To Even Playoff Tilts

BOSTON (AP)—"We're in for a dogfight now."

That was the dour observation of Boston's Bill Sharman Tuesday night after the Celtics had dropped a 113-103 playoff decision to the St. Louis Hawks.

The Hawks' victory gave them a 1-1 split in the first two games of the best-of-seven National Basketball Assn. playoffs for the title now held by Boston. The series now shifts to St. Louis for games Saturday and Sunday, then back to Boston for the fifth game.

"If we had won," Sharman said, "they would have had their backs to the wall. But we played badly. Now it's going to be tough."

Sharman, Boston's veteran backcourt man, paced the Celtics' faltering effort with 30 points, hitting on six of eight attempts from the floor in the second quarter when the Celtics forged a 56-49 halftime margin.

After the half the Celtics fell apart, plagued by bad passes and mental lapses. St. Louis—riding on the scoring punch of Bob Pettit and Clyde Lovelette—started back.

Si Green broke an 85-85 tie early in the fourth quarter and the Hawks were ahead to stay.

Pettit led all scorers with 35 points and Lovellette had 21.

Tri-State Play Continues

No games are scheduled Thursday but quarter-finals will be staged Friday and semi-finals and finals Saturday.

Riverview Florists stamped itself as one of the leading contenders with a 91-56 barrage over the Grad's of Steubenville.

Showing talent from the Youngstown area and Westminster College the Riverview five turned in the best offensive show of the evening.

For Friday night's game Riverview is expected to add Chuckie Davis, Westminster's Little All-American, to the lineup.

In the best game of the evening, the entry of American Billiards-Freed's nipped Wilson Sunoco, 54-50, in the waning minutes.

A tremendous height advantage finally paid off for the American-Freed combine with such notables as Bevo Francis, Jim Tucker and Miles Witchey, all standing 6-foot-4 or better, in the lineup.

Wilson's led at halftime, 30-23, and held the lead up until the last four minutes when American - Freed's grabbed a slim margin and held on to it.

Tucker, the former Duquesne star, was the big gun for the winners with 19 points while Bevo dropped in 10.

Wilson's won earlier in the evening by defeating Lee's Market in the opener, 60-46. Blanda, a deadly jump shot artist, scored 30 points for the top individual scoring performance of the night. He totaled 51 points for two games.

Rookie Paces Reds' Victory Over Orioles

MIAMI (AP)—In guessing what rookies will make the grade with Cincinnati's Reds this season, don't rule out Tony Gonzalez.

This tough little Haitian, who has shown talent at hitting, led an exhibition game bombardment Tuesday night that helped the Reds sink Baltimore's Orioles, 8-1.

Vada Pinson's homer may have been the biggest punch, but Gonzalez' three singles and a double headed a 15-hit attack. Meanwhile, Jay Hook, with five shutout innings, and Don Newcombe, working the last four frames, checked Baltimore with seven scattered hits.

Gonzalez was an experiment at spring training this year. General Manager Gabe Paul said:

"Every one in the past few months who has seen Gonzalez in the winter league told me he's ready for the major league this year."

If he makes the Red outfield, it might mean Manager Fred Hutchinson will have to shift Frank Robinson from outfield to first base again.

That could touch off a heap of fireworks, because Robinson and Hutch disagreed on the matter: Robinson said he won't play on first.

Gonzalez, 23, is only 5-foot-9 and 170 pounds. He has one noticeable deficiency—his return throws from the outfield are not always marvels of accuracy.

"Watch him throw. He owns a gun for an arm," said Hutchinson one day this spring.

Gonzalez fielded the ball and threw it hard and accurately to home plate.

"He has a wonderfully accurate arm," said Gabe Paul.

Then Gonzalez fielded another hit. This throw sailed over the catcher's head and hit the grandstand screen.

"You were saying?" asked Hutch.

"I was saying," said Paul, "he has a powerful throwing arm."

Chester has been working outside for the past two days in preparation for its opener Thursday and Amedeo has almost made up his mind on a starting lineup.

Rounding out the infield is Ken Sayre, a veteran, at third base, while John Steele will be doing most of the catching.

"Gary Daugherty was our leading hitter last season and when he isn't pitching he will be playing somewhere in the infield," Amedeo said.

Another candidate for mound duties is Gary Pugh who will also take his turn in the outfield.

Several battles are being waged for the outfield posts with Bill Mayhew, the leading candidate for the centerfield job, while Bill Mackall will play some in right and back up Steele in the catching chores.

Bob Shaffer, a senior letterman, will be used in the outfield and has been working out at first base.

'Some Good Looking Kids' With Chicago, Grimm Says

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—"We've got some pretty good looking kids," says Chicago Cubs Manager Charlie Grimm as he works to mould youngsters and veterans into a first-division club.

Again the name of Ernie Banks leads all the rest after the star shortstop won the National League's most valuable player award for a second straight year in 1959.

Best looking of the rookies has been right fielder Lou Johnson, a 25-year-old purchased from the Kansas City Monarchs Negro team in 1955. He hit over .300 with two Chicago farm clubs last season including .327 at San Antonio.

"We've had good pitching and good hitting in the spring games," observed Grimm.

Grimm hopes both Dick Drott and Moe Drabowsky, who won 15 and 13 in 1957, can pitch back to that form. Bob Anderson, who won 13 in 1959 and Glen Hobbie, with 16 triumphs, head the front-line pitching with Don Elston one of the best relief hurlers in the majors.

Veteran catcher Del Rice was signed after being released by Milwaukee and will work with the young hurlers. Other catching jobs remain open.

Dale Long tops the first base candidates but if rookie Johnson grabs an outfield job, George Altman could move in to see service at first.

Tony Taylor, a regular two seasons, goes at second with Banks at shortstop.

At third, the Cubs have high hopes for rookie Ron Santo, who hit .327 with San Antonio last year. Dick Gernert, acquired from the Red Sox in trade, can play either first or third.

If none of those come through, the Cubs have an experienced third sacker in Frank Thomas who came from Cincinnati in a big winter deal. Grimm prefers Thomas in left field with ex-Phillie Richie Ashburn in center.

Also in the outfield picture are Walt Moryn from the 1959 club and Bob Will, a .336 hitter at Fort Worth last season. Irv Noren, at 35, bids for a spot on the club also.

"I think we were helped defensively with our winter trades," Grimm declares. "We've just got to wait and see if the hitting comes through."

Hawks Defeat Celts To Even Playoff Tilts

BOSTON (AP)—"We're in for a dogfight now."

That was the dour observation of Boston's Bill Sharman Tuesday night after the Celtics had dropped a 113-103 playoff decision to the St. Louis Hawks.

The Hawks' victory gave them a 1-1 split in the first two games of the best-of-seven National Basketball Assn. playoffs for the title now held by Boston. The series now shifts to St. Louis for games Saturday and Sunday, then back to Boston for the fifth game.

"If we had won," Sharman said, "they would have had their backs to the wall. But we played badly. Now it's going to be tough."

Sharman, Boston's veteran backcourt man, paced the Celtics' faltering effort with 30 points, hitting on six of eight attempts from the floor in the second quarter when the Celtics forged a 56-49 halftime margin.

After the half the Celtics fell apart, plagued by bad passes and mental lapses. St. Louis—riding on the scoring punch of Bob Pettit and Clyde Lovelette—started back.

Si Green broke an 85-85 tie early in the fourth quarter and the Hawks were ahead to stay.

Pettit led all scorers with 35 points and Lovellette had 21.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

A friend of mine from Pomeroy, Ohio, took a trip to one of the counties in the southern Ohio hills where pheasants were as common as hoot owls.

This was his first pheasant hunt. During the day he saw upward of 400 birds leaving one cornfield, flying and running to another cornfield ahead of the hunters.

He couldn't believe his eyes and said, "Anybody that says there are that many pheasants in Ohio is a liar". That was more than 20 years ago when pheasants were in Wood, Hancock and Liberty counties by the thousands and the farmers were pretty well disgusted with the damage they were doing to certain types of crops.

To get to the point: Who would think you could drive for approximately three miles on Johnson Rd. north of Sebring and see so many pheasants you might count up to 200 and then say it is impossible to count them all? I was among the many spectators who did just that.

YOU COULD see pheasants under the gray-stem dogwood, under the thorn apples or a clump of briars or any kind of a hedge row searching for food.

Some one threw a few ears of corn here and there and the cobs were picked clean. It was easy to see the birds were eating any kind of winterberry or rose hip available and seemed to have plenty of pep regardless of the weather.

The same situation existed on Oyster Rd. and points not too far from Alliance. There are plenty of pheasants. But before you get the idea this will be your hunting territory next season, you had better take a second look. No Hunting signs were everywhere.

The thought occurs to me: These birds were brought in and stocked by the receipts from the hunters who bought hunting licenses. The initial stocking was made and it is a proven fact the birds did well and reproduced in such numbers they can be referred to as "numerous".

In many, many other instances birds have been stocked and none, or very few, ever reproduced.

This brings up a point: Does stocking pheasants pay off? It certainly does in some instances, but generally speaking, no. I released 63 pheasants at West Point. All were tagged or banded and I have not received one band to prove they survived.

To my knowledge, there were a few pheasants in existence in this vicinity. I saw them at different times of the year — one here, four or five there, not too many. By contrast, 23 years ago I released young pheasants north of Sebring in what was known as the Sebring Estates.

IN THOSE days the game protector released pheasants where he thought it would make people happy or where he thought the habitat was suitable.

There was no such thing as research in advance, no biological facts to justify stocking, merely a hit-or-miss releasing.

In this area are fox tracks that show foxes also exist. I observed a marsh hawk with big ideas of a pheasant dinner, but the pheasants paid little attention to one of the weaker members of the feathered falcons.

While all this was going on I got a call over my radio to contact the sheriff's office immediately. Eight mongrels had chased a young spike buck on to a railroad trestle in Franklin Twp., and were chewing him up, with both front legs broken. Deputy Sheriff Jim Miller routed the dogs, put the buck out of his misery and the "guests" at the County Jail enjoyed "deerburgers".

Phillies Snap Pirates Streak At 11 Games

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Piersall, a veteran of eight years in the major leagues, is making a second comeback.

From a case of mental illness in 1952, he returned to play six straight seasons for the Boston Red Sox. From 1953 through 1958 he never played less than 130 games.

In 1956, his peak year, he led the American League in games played at his position (155) and he hit 40 doubles to top the AL. His batting average was .293. Then it slipped to .261, .237, and on Dec. 2, 1958, the Red Sox traded him to the Cleveland Indians for Vic Wertz and Gary Geiger.

Piersall, a right-handed hitter, opened the '59 season in center for Cleveland, but he wasn't a fixture for long. The Indians had also acquired left-handed hitting Tito Francona, in March from Detroit, and Tito supplied much of the punch that carried Cleveland to a second-place finish. Francona played 122 games, hit .363 and 20 home runs. Piersall played in only 100 games, hit .246 and a mere 4 homers.

Piersall wasn't happy as a platoon player in Manager Joe Gordon's lineup, and he wants that regular center field job back.

At Scottsdale Tuesday, Piersall went 2-for-2 and made the big defensive play against the Red Sox who traded him. Cleveland won 7-6, and it was Piersall who made a fine recovery and throw on Don Buddin's long double in the ninth inning. The play prevented Don Gile from scoring the tying run.

That kind of playing should convince Gordon Piersall is the man for center, rather than the younger, huskier Carroll Hardy. Francona seems set in left now that Minnie Minoso has been traded to Chicago, and power hitting Rocky Colavito is the right fielder.

In the other Arizona exhibition game, the Chicago Cubs edged the San Francisco Giants 7-6.

In Florida, the Los Angeles Dodgers blanked the St. Louis Cardinals 5-0 at St. Petersburg, the New York Yankees defeated the Kansas City Athletics 4-1 at West Palm Beach, the Washington Senators beat the Chicago White Sox 5-4 at Orlando, the Milwaukee Braves defeated the Detroit Tigers 7-6 at Bradenton, the Cincinnati Reds whipped the Baltimore Orioles 8-1 in a night game at Miami, and the Philadelphia Phillies, behind veteran Robin Roberts snapped the Pittsburgh Pirates' 11-game winning streak, 7-2 at Clearwater.

Milwaukee's Hank Aaron had a perfect base stealing record in 1959. He made eight steals in as many attempts.

Herb Score's Shoulder Tightens In Brief Stint

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The shoulder that has been bothering Herb Score for several weeks tightened up again Tuesday after the southpaw pitched two innings against the Boston Red Sox.

Score started the exhibition game at Scottsdale, giving up two runs in the first inning and none in the second.

The Indians won the contest 7-6, with Bob Hale hitting a pinch double in the ninth inning to drive in the winning run. It was the first hit in five times at bat this spring for Hale, former Baltimore first baseman.

Hale's double was one of 17 hits collected by the Indians—15 singles and two doubles—and capped a rally started by Rocky Colavito. The Indians had gone into the ninth trailing 5-6.

Walter Bond, the giant outfielder, got two singles in two appearances, boosting his average to .429. Bubba Phillips, who has come out of his batting slump, hit three singles, and Jim Piersall singled twice in two appearances.

Tiefenauer, who came in in the eighth and retired three batters in a row, gained the victory.

Bobby Locke, who followed Score, gave up three runs in the fourth, when the Red Sox took a 5-4 lead. Wynn Hawkins entered in the sixth and gave up a run on a single by Ron Jackson and a long triple by Haywood Sullivan. He disposed of the Red Sox with ease in the seventh.

Tom Brewer, last of three Boston pitchers, took the defeat.

NFL Working On Schedules

CHICAGO (AP) — All appeared serene in the National Football League today as it's 13-members went to work on 1960 season schedules.

The league opened a two-day session Tuesday by apparently approving an unchanged television policy and formally recognizing the shift of the Chicago Cardinals to St. Louis.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said whatever regular schedule was drafted for the coming season would be announced by individual clubs.

He said no difficulty was expected in drafting a schedule to accommodate the new Dallas, Tex. member, which will belong to the NFL's Western Division.

League representatives indicated there will be no effort made for several years to accept a lucrative TV package deal first made by the Columbia Broadcasting System at the Miami meeting in January.

The CBS offer is said to be approximately 3½ million dollars, but for the time being, the past TV pattern will prevail. CBS is carrying all NFL games, on a regional basis, except those involving the Cleveland Browns.

The Browns have contractual obligations with an independent network.

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — The Chicago White Sox have been after Washington slugger Roy Sievers for a long time but now that Sievers can be had they are thinking it over.

Cal Griffith, Washington president, offered Sievers to the Sox Tuesday in return for catcher Earl Battey and utility infielder Sammy Esposito.

Sox Manager Al Lopez is reluctant to part with Esposito who can fill in at third, short or second base.

Mays Having Best Spring Since Giants Moved West

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Willie Mays is having his best spring since the Giants moved from New York to San Francisco.

The great center fielder, who gained fame as the "say hey" kid, now performs as a matured team leader, but he still makes sensational catches and hits with authority.

One thing is different. Willie took baseball just a bit easier this spring. He still plays exhibition games as if they were regular season contests, but Manager Bill Rigney doesn't want him to go all out all the time.

In previous springs Mays suffered with colds as an apparent reaction to the fast transition into the hot Arizona air. Last spring he suffered a severe leg cut sliding into Boston catcher Sammy White.

Willie plays in most of the Giants exhibition games, but usually for only five innings. Tuesday, he appeared as a pinch hitter during a ninth-inning rally that brought five runs before the Giants lost to the Chicago Cubs 7-6.

Mays produced a solid single in the pinch-hit role to put his spring average at .333 with 14 hits in 42 appearances. His most discussed homer came in San Diego against Cleveland's Jim Perry when he hit the ball so hard it rolled up a hill outside the park.

His most discussed catch was on a blast to right center by Boston's Haywood Sullivan when Willie raced about 100 feet to grab the ball just before he crashed into the wall.

Canadiens Ready To Wrap Up NHL Playoff Series

By The Associated Press

The Montreal Canadiens are on the brink of their 10th straight Stanley Cup playoff final. They have the Chicago Black Hawks all but counted out of the National Hockey League's best-of-seven semifinal series.

The Canadiens' 4-0 victory over the Hawks Tuesday night gives them a 3-0 lead with the fourth game scheduled for Thursday night in Chicago. A Montreal victory would send the four - time Stanley Cup winners against the winner of the Detroit-Toronto series, now tied 2-2 after Detroit's 2-1 overtime victory over the Leafs Tuesday night.

Tuesday night at Chicago, the Canadiens got their power from the spare line of Bill Hicke, Ralph Backstrom and Don Marshall. Hicke scored the first goal and assisted on the fourth. Marshall got a goal and an assist and Backstrom had three assists.

Rookie Jerry Melnyk banged home a rebound at 1:54 of the overtime to get the Wings home. It was the third successive overtime battle for the two teams. The series resumes Thursday night in Toronto.

Full Agreement Reached On Ingo, Patterson Match

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Full agreement on all details of a return match between champion Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson for the world heavyweight boxing title has been reached, The Associated Press was told today.

Thomas Boland, treasurer and Legal representative of Feature Sports, Inc., added he has been in Goteborg for some days to negotiate with Johansson and his advisors for the return bout.

"The formal signing of the contract for the return match will take place next week in New York," Boland said.

NCAA Champions Launch Practice But Minus Coach

DENVER (AP) — Ohio State's NCAA champions arrived minus their coach and held their first workout Tuesday in preparing for the Olympic basketball trials starting Thursday.

Coach Fred Taylor had a speech engagement at Elkhart, Ind., and will join his troops probably today.

All-America Jerry Lucas and his mates went directly to the 12,000-seat Coliseum for their first light workout. They meet the NAIA All-Stars—a collection of small-college standouts—in their first tournament test Thursday night.

That game is one of four on the opening night schedule. The others match Akron against the Armed Forces All-Stars, Bartlesville (Okla.) against the NCAA University All-Stars and Peoria against the NCAA All-Stars.

Peoria, Akron and Bartlesville, all National Industrial League members, finished 1-2-4 in the national AAU tourney which ended here Saturday night.

Twelve players will be selected from the tourney field to represent this nation in the Olympics at Rome this summer.

Want Hot Tip On Race? Asks Baltimore Cabbie

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — Want a good tip on a longshot? Ask a Baltimore cab driver.

Four Baltimore cabbies are the owners of Irene Terres, a 3-year-old filly that won the final race of Bowie's spring meet Tuesday at odds of 72-1.

Irene hadn't finished better than eighth in three previous starts, but her owners had enough confidence to bet $50 on her nose Tuesday. She paid $145.60, $72.20 and $31.40.

The four men bought Irene recently for $2,000.

Michigan State's 1960 baseball captain is second baseman Dick Golden, a senior from Holyoke, Mass.

White Sox Studying Sievers Trade Offer

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — The Chicago White Sox have been after Washington slugger Roy Sievers for a long time but now that Sievers can be had they are thinking it over.

Cal Griffith, Washington president, offered Sievers to the Sox Tuesday in return for catcher Earl Battey and utility infielder Sammy Esposito.

Sox Manager Al Lopez is reluctant to part with Esposito who can fill in at third, short or second base.

NFL Working On Schedules

CHICAGO (AP) — All appeared serene in the National Football League today as it's 13-members went to work on 1960 season schedules.

The league opened a two-day session Tuesday by apparently approving an unchanged television policy and formally recognizing the shift of the Chicago Cardinals to St. Louis.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said whatever regular schedule was drafted for the coming season would be announced by individual clubs.

He said no difficulty was expected in drafting a schedule to accommodate the new Dallas, Tex. member, which will belong to the NFL's Western Division.

League representatives indicated there will be no effort made for several years to accept a lucrative TV package deal first made by the Columbia Broadcasting System at the Miami meeting in January.

The CBS offer is said to be approximately 3½ million dollars, but for the time being, the past TV pattern will prevail. CBS is carrying all NFL games, on a regional basis, except those involving the Cleveland Browns.

The Browns have contractual obligations with an independent network.

Mays Having Best Spring Since Giants Moved West

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Willie Mays is having his best spring since the Giants moved from New York to San Francisco.

The great center fielder, who gained fame as the "say hey" kid, now performs as a matured team leader, but he still makes sensational catches and hits with authority.

One thing is different. Willie took baseball just a bit easier this spring. He still plays exhibition games as if they were regular season contests, but Manager Bill Rigney doesn't want him to go all out all the time.

In previous springs Mays suffered with colds as an apparent reaction to the fast transition into the hot Arizona air. Last spring he suffered a severe leg cut sliding into Boston catcher Sammy White.

Willie plays in most of the Giants exhibition games, but usually for only five innings. Tuesday, he appeared as a pinch hitter during a ninth-inning rally that brought five runs before the Giants lost to the Chicago Cubs 7-6.

Mays produced a solid single in the pinch-hit role to put his spring average at .333 with 14 hits in 42 appearances. His most discussed homer came in San Diego against Cleveland's Jim Perry when he hit the ball so hard it rolled up a hill outside the park.

His most discussed catch was on a blast to right center by Boston's Haywood Sullivan when Willie raced about 100 feet to grab the ball just before he crashed into the wall.

Canadiens Ready To Wrap Up NHL Playoff Series

By The Associated Press

The Montreal Canadiens are on the brink of their 10th straight Stanley Cup playoff final. They have the Chicago Black Hawks all but counted out of the National Hockey League's best-of-seven semifinal series.

The Canadiens' 4-0 victory over the Hawks Tuesday night gives them a 3-0 lead with the fourth game scheduled for Thursday night in Chicago. A Montreal victory would send the four-time Stanley Cup winners against the winner of the Detroit-Toronto series, now tied 2-2 after Detroit's 3-1 overtime victory over the Leafs Tuesday night.

Tuesday night at Chicago, the Canadiens got their power from the spare line of Bill Hicke, Ralph Backstrom and Don Marshall. Hicke scored the first goal and assisted on the fourth. Marshall got a goal and an assist and Backstrom had three assists.

Rookie Jerry Melnyk banged home a rebound at 1:34 of the overtime to get the Wings home. It was the third successive overtime battle for the two teams. The series resumes Thursday night in Toronto.

Full Agreement Reached On Ingo, Patterson Match

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Full agreement on all details of a return match between champion Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson for the world heavyweight boxing title has been reached, The Associated Press was told today.

Thomas Boland, treasurer and Legal representative of Feature Sports, Inc., added he has been in Goteborg for some days to negotiate with Johansson and his advisors for the return bout.

"The formal signing of the contract for the return match will take place next week in New York," Boland said.

NCAA Champions Launch Practice But Minus Coach

DENVER (AP) — Ohio State's NCAA champions arrived minus their coach and held their first workout Tuesday in preparing for the Olympic basketball trials starting Thursday.

Coach Fred Taylor had a speech engagement at Elkhart, Ind., and will join his troops probably today.

All-America Jerry Lucas and his mates went directly to the 12,000-seat Coliseum for their first light workout. They meet the NAIA All-Stars—a collection of small-college standouts—in their first tournament test Thursday night.

That game is one of four on the opening night schedule. The others match Akron against the Armed Forces All-Stars, Bartlesville (Okla.) against the NCAA University All-Stars and Peoria against the NCAA All-Stars.

Peoria, Akron and Bartlesville, all National Industrial League members, finished 1-2-4 in the national AAU tourney which ended here Saturday night.

Twelve players will be selected from the tourney field to represent this nation in the Olympics at Rome this summer.

Want Hot Tip On Race? Asks Baltimore Cabbie

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — Want a good tip on a longshot? Ask a Baltimore cab driver.

Four Baltimore cabbies are the owners of Irene Terres, a 2-year-old filly that won the final race of Bowie's spring meet Tuesday at odds of 72-1.

Irene hadn't finished better than eighth in three previous starts, but her owners had enough confidence, to bet $50 on her nose Tuesday. She paid $145.60, $72.20 and $31.40.

The four men bought Irene recently for $2,000.

Michigan State's 1960 baseball captain is second baseman Dick Golden, a senior from Holyoke, Mass.

Tigers Figure Bolling For Full Season

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have junked the idea that slender Frank Bolling needs to be rested during the season.

Bolling has greeted the news with whole-hearted approval.

"I'm getting tired just listening to stories about how fatigued I get during the hot days of the season in July and August. I think I'd do all right if they just let me alone," said the 28-year-old veteran second baseman.

Tiger managers in the past thought that Bolling, who stands 6-feet-1 and weighs about 170, should be given a few days' rest every now and then.

The trouble was, Detroit lacked a capable replacement and Bolling is one of the team's best clutch hitters.

One of baseball's slickest glove men, Bolling has averaged .263 hitting and has belted about a dozen home runs a season since joining the Tigers as a regular in 1954.

Manager Jimmie Dykes has no plans to rest him in 1960.

"Like anyone else, he might get into a little slump and need a couple of days' out," said Dykes, "but other than that, I don't see any need to rest him. He's a young man and a tough one."

2nd In Boat Race

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Don Bever of Vermilion, Ohio, wound up second in the final race of the Jahncke Open Series for Star Class boats here Tuesday. He had won the opener in the three-race series Sunday. Bever scored 122 ½ points altogether, while Dick Stearns of Wilmette, Ill., was first with 125.

Washington (Pa.) Team Enters Junior Tourney

A team from the Washington (Pa.) area is the latest to enter the Junior Basketball Tournament of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club scheduled to be run off April 5, 6, 7 and 8 at Memorial Auditorium.

The 13th annual edition is for high school cagers and is probably the only tournament of its kind in the area. Players must be in grades 9 through 12 to participate.

The Washington squad entered under the banner of Brownson House and is coached by Art Sandusky. Two on the squad played varsity ball this year for Coach Bill Laughlin's Washington High Presidents.

The lineup includes Jerry Sandusky, Bob Coleman, Bob Davis, Jerry Yoders, Bob Provenzano and Bucky Popeck.

Earlier entries included a high-powered Travelers Hotel outfit that lists several All-Ohio selections and players from the East Liverpool High varsity.

The Nonpareil Club is still awaiting other entries to begin rolling in. The entry fee is $10 and the deadline for entering is midnight Saturday, April 2.

A host of trophies to be awarded following the championship game will be on display this week in the Burbick Hardware store on Washington and Broadway.

At the club's meeting Tuesday night in the YMCA, committee chairmen and workers were named and plans discussed for the tournament. Ralph Musuraca, president, presided.

Admission for the tournament will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students until the final night when admission will be $1 and 35 cents for the championship game and semi-finals.

Akron Optician Blasts 290 Game In ABC Tourney

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Bosco Yovanovich, an Akron optician, was looking at the world through rose-colored glasses today after blasting a 290 game in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Yovanovich, 47, bowled his big game in team play Tuesday night for the first bright spot in two days of dull scoring. There were no changes in the top 10 standings in any division Tuesday.

The 290 was the highest individual game of the tournament to date.

Bowling big games is nothing new for Yovanovich, known as Boss Bosco in Akron bowling circles. He has scored eight sanctioned 300 games, two of them in league play this season.

Bosco opened with a poor 157 and followed with 178 before the big one. In that third game he missed the headpin in the first frame, leaving the 1-2-4-7 railroad spare. Bosco converted it and then strung together 11 strikes.

Donkey Sneaks Into Sale For Thoroughbreds

EPSOM, England (AP) — A donkey was put up for sale in one of the world's most exclusive thoroughbred sales rings.

Sixteen sleek race horses had passed under the auctioneer's hammer when the long-eared critter turned up Tuesday at this hallowed headquarters of British horse racing.

The auctioneer got bids for the donkey up to 20 guineas (58.80).

This was below the regarded minimum bid and with no higher bidder, the animal was withdrawn.

John Conventry, partner in Tattersalls which ran the sale, said: "We took the order to seel in the normal way. This wasn't a bloodstock sale. In the old days at Tattersalls in London we sold anything — saddles, horse blankets, stirrups.

"So why not a donkey now?"

Trades Not Over, Giants Boss Says

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—"We're not through trading yet," San Francisco Giants' Manager Bill Rigney said today. He was talking about the deal that brought Jim Marshall from the Boston Red Sox in return for pitcher Al Worthington.

What Rigney referred to was the Giants' obvious desire for another left-handed hitting outfielder, with the two best bets now playing for the Chicago Cubs — Walt Moryn or Irv Noren.

The Giants are building up their bench with Marshall, a throw-in with catcher Sammy White in the Red Sox deal for Russ Nixon with Cleveland — the deal that was nullified when White quit baseball.

Worthington, a 30-year old right-hander, gives the Bosox more right-handed pitching strength.

Officials Report Havana Franchise To Stay In Cuba

MIAMI (AP) — International League officials promised today that the Havana franchise would remain in Cuba — but there still were signs of unrest in the loop.

"We have absolutely no plans or decisions to move or lose the Havana franchise," said IL President Frank (Shag) Shaughnnessy. "There is no question in my mind that we'll be in Havana this season."

The Dallas Times Herald said Tuesday the league had decided to move the Havana franchise to either Newark or Jersey City.

The Times Herald story, by Bud Shrake, said the franchise would be moved because of pressure from minor league czar George Trautman.

Bobby Maduro, president of the Havana club, said he talked to Shaughnnessy Monday and the subject was not mentioned.

Penitentiary Address Listed For Gridder

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Miami University lists the home address of Redskin football player Dave Kaiser as "108 House 2, U. S. Penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kans." And it is correct.

Kaiser's father is assistant warden at the federal prison.

Donkey Sneaks Into Sale For Thoroughbreds

EPSOM, England (AP) — A donkey was put up for sale in one of the world's most exclusive thoroughbred sales rings.

Sixteen sleek race horses had passed under the auctioneer's hammer when the long-eared critter turned up Tuesday at this hallowed headquarters of British horse racing.

The auctioneer got bids for the donkey up to 20 guineas (58.80).

This was below the regarded minimum bid and with no higher bidder, the animal was withdrawn.

John Conventry, partner in Tattersalls which ran the sale, said:

"We took the order to seel in the normal way. This wasn't a bloodstock sale. In the old days at Tattersalls in London we sold anything — saddles, horse blankets, stirrups.

"So why not a donkey now?"

Trades Not Over, Giants Boss Says

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—"We're not through trading yet," San Francisco Giants' Manager Bill Rigney said today. He was talking about the deal that brought Jim Marshall from the Boston Red Sox in return for pitcher Al Worthington.

What Rigney referred to was the Giants' obvious desire for another left-handed hitting outfielder, with the two best bets now playing for the Chicago Cubs — Walt Moryn or Irv Noren.

The Giants are building up their bench with Marshall, a throw-in with catcher Sammy White in the Red Sox deal for Russ Nixon with Cleveland — the deal that was nullified when White quit baseball.

Worthington, a 30-year old right-hander, gives the Bosox more right-handed pitching strength.

Officials Report Havana Franchise To Stay In Cuba

MIAMI (AP) — International League officials promised today that the Havana franchise would remain in Cuba — but there still were signs of unrest in the loop.

"We have absolutely no plans or decisions to move or lose the Havana franchise," said IL President Frank (Shag) Shaughnessy. "There is no question in my mind that we'll be in Havana this season."

The Dallas Times Herald said Tuesday the league had decided to move the Havana franchise to either Newark or Jersey City.

The Times Herald story, by Bud Shrake, said the franchise would be moved because of pressure from minor league czar George Trautman.

Bobby Maduro, president of the Havana club, said he talked to Shaughnessy Monday and the subject was not mentioned.

Large Family With $20,000 From Deal Starts Trip Abroad

NEW YORK (AP)—What would you do with a windfall of $20,000?

Vernon O. Johnson bought a 13-year-old bus, converted it into a mobile home for himself, his wife and their eight children—and set out to see the world.

Johnson, 39, a real estate man, and his family lived in Santa Barbara, Calif.

When a business deal produced an unexpected $20,000 profit, Johnson decided to pack up and start moving.

"We always believe in living up to the hilt," he said on his arrival Tuesday with his family after a leisurely, month-long, cross-country junket.

Today the Johnsons and their bus-home will leave for Italy aboard the liner Vulcania.

From Italy, they'll tour southern Europe. The summer months will be spent in Scandinavia.

The winter months will find them visiting Egypt, India and the Far East.

The Johnson children range in age from 2 to 17. Christie, the oldest, was just graduated from high school.

As for the others papa Johnson said: "We'll be doing some studying along the way, and if we stay any place long enough we'll put them in school. But we think they'll get a pretty good education as it is."

How long will they be gone on their world tour?

"At first we thought the trip might take a year," Johnson replied, "But if it takes two years, we'll stay that long."

Former Chester Resident Snubbed As Husband Dies

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—"I think my husband is dying," Mrs. Mary Starkey said frantically Tuesday night as she begged two persons to give up the telephone party line so she could call a doctor.

"That's a new one," a voice replied. "Now I've heard everything."

The other party just laughed. Then they resumed their conversation, Mrs. Starkey said.

Mrs. Starkey's husband, Wilbur, 58, a retired Republic Steel Corp. employe, lay unconscious in bed at their home in nearby Leavittsburg.

Desperate, Mrs. Starkey ran next door. The neighbors had no phone.

She rushed back home, found the line open and dialed the operator.

The family physician pronounced Starkey dead of a stroke.

Mrs. Starkey is the former Mary Skinner, a onetime Chester resident and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Skinner. She and her late husband lived in Chester for a while after their marriage.

CLEVELAND (AP)—More than 40 per cent of the estimated 1½ million income-tax payers in 22 counties of northeastern Ohio have filed returns here.

Of the returns filed so far—17 days before deadline—702,209 call for refunds, Burton said. The revenue office already has mailed checks worth more than 49½ million dollars to taxpayers and are processing additional checks worth more than 27 million dollars.

To Appeal Conviction

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Attorneys for two Dayton men say they will appeal conviction of the pair on charges of burglary and larceny in an $8,847 safecracking last fall at the Middletown Sports Bowl. A common pleas court jury convicted Paul Vukovic, 31, and Nelson Lyons, 34, Tuesday. Police said they recovered $4,246 in cash and checks from the Sports Bowl when the two were arrested last Nov. 16.

Army Probes Painting Of Symbols At Center

EDGEWOOD, Md. (AP) — The Army today investigated the painting of swastikas, a Soviet hammer-and-sickle and other symbols on buildings and paving at its chemical center here.

More than a half dozen swastikas, including one with the word "Jews" scrawled beside it, were found early Monday morning.

An Edgewood spokesman said preliminary investigation produced evidence that the painting resulted from an unauthorized drinking party after a platoon was ordered to repaint a latrine.

The Glorious Sixties?

Challenge And Not Boom Seen Start Of New Decade

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Some call them the Glorious Sixties. But just now for many businessmen—and their employes—the start of the decade seems more of a challenge than a sure-thing boom.

The suspicion is growing that the old postwar era may have passed with last New Year's Eve celebrations. The sixties can be glorious—but perhaps mainly for those who take a new approach.

Speaking of just one phase of the new look to the U. S. economy—our export lag and loss of gold reserves—Commerce Secretary Frederick H. Mueller says: "I think that historians will report that the postwar era lasted from 1945 to 1959. During that period, Uncle Sam was the wealthy relative putting Western Europe and Japan back on their feet."

The view that this end of an era applies also to domestic economy is far from universally held.

Many think spring will bring back the old-style boom—more consumer buying, more industrial output, more jobs, more houses built, higher stock prices.

But those who have sniffed out a change note several things.

Sales competition in most lines is keener than ever this year. In part this is due to finicky consumers. They have a surgeit of choices in deciding how to spend whatever money they have left over after providing the bare necessities for keeping body and soul together—after paying taxes.

In part, it is due to excess capacity to produce goods in many lines of industry. The competition to sell what they can produce is highlighting new aspects of the industrial scene as the sixties start.

First, profits come easier to those who have newer plants and more efficient tools. They can cut down production costs on a mechanical basis. And often the new mechanization has cut down the labor cost, too. Those with less modern plants and methods are having to scramble.

Second, sales campaigns are being revised and sales staffs shaken up. The hard-sell is coming back strong—in domestic markets as well in overseas markets where competition is very keen.

Third, the days when the annual wage-price spiral costs could be passed along may be over. Merchants are turning to cannier buying. Canny customers shop more widely.

The change in the economy is showing up in production as well as the sales field. The first sign was the stubborn hangover of unemployment after the recession.

Changing industrial fields also have affected employment. New industries are rising—many calling for highly trained technicians. Consumers have switched allegiance from old products, old status symbols, to newer ways of living.

And another factor affecting today's way of doing business as contrasted to the long postwar era may be taking shape.

That is the apparent allaying of fears over more inflation—for the time being at least. In most years since the war, business could count on rising prices, rising costs of living, steadily expanding production facilities built to beat another rise in costs.

The Glorious Sixties?

Challenge And Not Boom Seen Start Of New Decade

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Some call them the Glorious Sixties. But just now for many businessmen—and their employes—the start of the decade seems more of a challenge than a sure-thing boom.

The suspicion is growing that the old postwar era may have passed with last New Year's Eve celebrations. The sixties can be glorious—but perhaps mainly for those who take a new approach.

Speaking of just one phase of the new look to the U. S. economy—our export lag and loss of gold reserves—Commerce Secretary Frederick H. Mueller says: "I think that historians will report that the postwar era lasted from 1945 to 1959. During that period, Uncle Sam was the wealthy relative putting Western Europe and Japan back on their feet."

The view that this end of an era applies also to domestic economy is far from universally held.

Many think spring will bring back the old-style boom—more consumer buying, more industrial output, more jobs, more houses built, higher stock prices.

But those who have sniffed out a change note several things.

Sales competition in most lines is keener than ever this year. In part this is due to finicky consumers. They have a surgeit of choices in deciding how to spend whatever money they have left over after providing the bare necessities for keeping body and soul together—after paying taxes.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

TV Families Should Be 'Lovable'

A member of the most successful husband - and - wife team in television history was in "21" the other day, offering advice to the newest member of the Hollywood husband - and - wife industry. (For, it is indeed an industry out there.)

John Crosby

"The only edict we had on our show was that no one should go home with anything on his mind he wishes he'd complained about," said Lucille Ball to Peter Lind Hayes. "Television goes so fast you haven't time to sleep on a grievance. Whenever you do, you'll find you're very unhappy later."

-:-

I CONSIDER this undistilled malarkey, but this is the philosophy which operates the laugh machine these days. Be lovable and you don't have to make 'em laugh, which may be the reason why bowling has got so popular.

"If it happens in the home of your audience, it must happen on your show," continued Miss Ball. "On our show we only did what could happen in anyone's home."

"What?" I exclaimed, thinking my ears were playing me tricks.

"Well, we exaggerated what came of it all," said Miss Ball. "But the situations were the sort of thing any husband and wife could get into."

This left me slightly speechless. The last Lucy and Desi clambake I had seen swam into my mind's eye. Lucy and Milton Berle were hanging from the scoop of a steam shovel some 13 stories off the ground. The sort of situation any of us might get into.

The steam shovel had great empathy, though. I related to it the minute I laid eyes on it. It had love, that steam shovel.

ANYHOW . . .

Miss Ball was in New York to discuss a musical called "Wildcat" she'll do next fall, if it's ready.

"I've never been on a stage—except for summer stock. I did 'Dream Girl' for 22 weeks in summer stock. Of course, we shot the show in front of a live audience all these years. I've never sung a song in my life and here I'm doing a big musical."

I said I'd seen her sing on television.

"I've clowned a couple. I've satirized a song. Now I've got to sing. I'm working on — what do you call it?—projection. I've got a two-octave range."

"I heard her the other night," said Mr. Hayes. "She sounds great. Can you think of anyone who'll cause a bigger explosion on Broadway — if the show's any good at all?"

-:-

FRANKLY, I can't. She's a superbly gifted clown. My own amateur non-Madison Avenue explanation for the popularity of "I Love Lucy" is that it was funny. It conceivably may have been also lovable, but the reason people looked at it, I keep thinking, is because it made them laugh. It's a silly notion, but it's my very own.

"Once you get going, you and Mary are going to love it," Miss Ball was saying to Mr. Hayes. "Desi and I were never happier than when we were working together. I wouldn't mind doing some more. But Desi wanted to quit."

She called him in California to ask his advice about appearing on an NBC show to accept an award, a ticklish matter since she's tied to CBS.

"It's showing here, Desi," she said into the telephone. "Sure, I love it—but it ties up traffic. Should I do it—the TV Guide Show?"

The marriage is dissolving but the Lucy-Desi empire goes on and somebody has to run it.

300 Attend PTA Meeting At Lisbon

LISBON — The largest attendance of the year — approximately 150 adults and 150 children — marked the meeting of the Lincoln Parent-Teacher Association Monday night. The Rev. Paul Gerrard gave the invocation.

Principal David Borrow was program chairman and presented Coach Edwin Bucher, who spoke on what is expected of 7th Grade Boys and Girls of Lincoln School when they enter 8th grade in the High School.

Jack Yanok, 7th grade vocal instructor, presented his class in four vocal numbers and the band under Ted Greener, director, played several selections.

Monty Muntean, president gave the year's financial report. Receipts included $74.19 from a book sale, $160 from memberships and $2,309.53 gross income from the magazine drive, or a total of $2,548.72 in the treasury.

The next meeting is April 25. Mrs. Vernon Duke, music instructor, she will present pupils from the 1st to 6th grades.

The famed Nebraska Territory of 1854 included the present states of Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Colorado.

Senate Battle On Rights Bill Has New Turn

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's battle over civil rights legislation takes a new turn today after major revisions of a House-passed bill by its Judiciary Committee.

The committee sent the revamped bill back to the Senate late Tuesday night without recommending its approval or disapproval.

Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) was expected to move to call up the measure today.

The House passed the bill last Thursay. The Senate immediately referred it to its Judiciary Committee for consideration, putting aside a broader measure it had been debating for six weeks.

If the Senate passes the House will without changing it, it goes directly to the President. But if the Senate accepts any revisions of the Judiciary Committee—and this seems inevitable—it goes back to the House, where Southern tacticians likely can delay it more weeks or months.

Every section of the House bill was amended by the committee, but only two changes were major. All are subject to action by the Senate.

One of these amendments, offered by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill), broadened a section of the House bill providing criminal penalties for interfering by force or threats with court orders for desegregation of public schools.

Under Dirksen's amendment, adopted by a 9-6 vote, it would be a crime to obstruct any federal court order, including injunctions issued in labor disputes. The Senate adopted such an amendment to its own bill by a 65-19 vote on March 11, then voted 49-35 to kill the whole section.

The other major amendment approved by the committee revised the voting referee section of the House measure to permit state officials to sit in on Negro registration hearings before court-appointed referees.

DiSalle Raps At Officials On Gambling

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he has no confidence in public officials who stand by and say gambling does no harm.

Gambling can undermine government, said DiSalle in an interview. "Minor corruption only leads to major corruption," he added.

Discussing the state's probe of Stark County vice and gambling, DiSalle said the investigations will be complete. He said Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy will be given all the tools he needs for the job.

DiSalle said he may ask the Legislature for new powers to fight gambling. "The conspiracy law will be reintroduced," he said.

The conspiracy law, aimed at punishing persons who help plan but don't participate in the commission of crimes, passed one house of the last legislative session, but was not reported out of a committee of the second house.

DiSalle said in a speech before the Stark County Mental Health Assn. that he would urge Ohioans to spend at least as much on mental health as on beer. He said Ohioans spent 410 million dollars last year for beer and malt beverages, or about seven times the 60 million dollars appropriated for mental health.

The governor estimated that Ohioans last year spent almost one billion dollars on alcoholic beverages, race track betting and illegal gambling.

TV Families Should Be 'Lovable'

A member of the most successful husband - and - wife team in television history was in "21" the other day, offering advice to the newest member of the Hollywood husband - and - wife industry. (For, it is indeed an industry out there.)

John Crosby

"The only edict we had on our show was that no one should go home with anything on his mind he wishes he'd complained about," said Lucille Ball to Peter Lind Hayes. "Television goes so fast you haven't time to sleep on a grievance. Whenever you do, you'll find you're very unhappy later."

-:-

MISS BALL has shot her last television show with Desi Arnaz, from whom she has filed suit for divorce. Mr. Hayes has just sold a situation comedy he'll make with his wife, Mary Healy. One is leaving the field. The other is entering it.

"Do you think the world needs another domestic situation comedy?" I inquired.

It's my theory that if this thing keeps up, no one will get married in another 100 years. They'll just watch marriage on television, experience the whole thing vicariously as they do their gun fighting.

"There'll never be too many situation comedies," said Miss Ball belligerently, "if they catch the spirit of real love. If the audience feels. . .what's that word, Peter?"

"Empathy," said Mr. Hayes, who has been through all this with the people in the advertising dodge who use talk like that. "If you got empathy, you got it made. That's what they told us at Four Star. You don't have to be funny as long as the audience knows you love each other."

-:-

I CONSIDER this undistilled malarkey, but this is the philosophy which operates the laugh machine these days. Be lovable and you don't have to make 'em laugh, which may be the reason why bowling has got so popular.

"If it happens in the home of your audience, it must happen on your show," continued Miss Ball. "On our show we only did what could happen in anyone's home."

"What?" I exclaimed, thinking my ears were playing me tricks.

"Well, we exaggerated what came of it all," said Miss Ball. "But the situations were the sort of thing any husband and wife could get into."

This left me slightly speechless. The last Lucy and Desi clambake I had seen swam into my mind's eye. Lucy and Milton Berle were hanging from the scoop of a steam shovel some 13 stories off the ground. The sort of situation any of us might get into.

The steam shovel had great empathy, though. I related to it the minute I laid eyes on it. It had love, that steam shovel.

ANYHOW . . .

Miss Ball was in New York to discuss a musical called "Wildcat" she'll do next fall, if it's ready.

"I've never been on a stage—except for summer stock. I did 'Dream Girl' for 22 weeks in summer stock. Of course, we shot the show in front of a live audience all these years. I've never sung a song in my life and here I'm doing a big musical."

I said I'd seen her sing on television.

"I've clowned a couple. I've satirized a song. Now I've got to sing. I'm working on — what do you call it?—projection. I've got a two-octave range."

"I heard her the other night," said Mr. Hayes. "She sounds great. Can you think of anyone who'll cause a bigger explosion on Broadway — if the show's any good at all?"

-:-

FRANKLY, I can't. She's a superbly gifted clown. My own amateur non-Madison Avenue explanation for the popularity of "I Love Lucy" is that it was funny. It conceivably may have been also lovable, but the reason people looked at it, I keep thinking, is because it made them laugh. It's a silly notion, but it's my very own.

"Once you get going, you and Mary are going to love it," Miss Ball was saying to Mr. Hayes. "Desi and I were never happier than when we were working together. I wouldn't mind doing some more. But Desi wanted to quit."

She called him in California to ask his advice about appearing on an NBC show to accept an award, a ticklish matter since she's tied to CBS.

"It's showing here, Desi," she said into the telephone. "Sure, I love it—but it ties up traffic. Should I do it—the TV Guide Show?"

The marriage is dissolving but the Lucy-Desi empire goes on and somebody has to run it.

300 Attend PTA Meeting At Lisbon

LISBON — The largest attendance of the year — approximately 150 adults and 150 children — marked the meeting of the Lincoln Parent-Teacher Association Monday night. The Rev. Paul Gerrard gave the invocation.

Principal David Borrow was program chairman and presented Coach Edwin Bucher, who spoke on what is expected of 7th Grade Boys and Girls of Lincoln School when they enter 8th grade in the High School.

Jack Yanok, 7th grade vocal instructor, presented his class in four vocal numbers and the band under Ted Greener, director, played several selections.

Monty Muntean, president gave the year's financial report. Receipts included $74.19 from a book sale, $160 from memberships and $2,309.53 gross income from the magazine drive, or a total of $2,548.72 in the treasury.

The next meeting is April 25. Mrs. Vernon Duke, music instructor, she will present pupils from the 1st to 6th grades.

The famed Nebraska Territory of 1854 included the present states of Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Colorado.

Senate Battle On Rights Bill Has New Turn

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's battle over civil rights legislation takes a new turn today after major revisions of a House-passed bill by its Judiciary Committee.

The committee sent the revamped bill back to the Senate late Tuesday night without recommending its approval or disapproval.

Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) was expected to move to call up the measure today.

The House passed the bill last Thursay. The Senate immediately referred it to its Judiciary Committee for consideration, putting aside a broader measure it had been debating for six weeks.

If the Senate passes the House will without changing it, it goes directly to the President. But if the Senate accepts any revisions of the Judiciary Committee—and this seems inevitable—it goes back to the House, where Southern tacticians likely can delay it more weeks or months.

Every section of the House bill was amended by the committee, but only two changes were major. All are subject to action by the Senate.

One of these amendments, offered by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill), broadened a section of the House bill providing criminal penalties for interfering by force or threats with court orders for desegregation of public schools.

Under Dirksen's amendment, adopted by a 9-6 vote, it would be a crime to obstruct any federal court order, including injunctions issued in labor disputes. The Senate adopted such an amendment to its own bill by a 65-19 vote on March 11, then voted 49-35 to kill the whole section.

The other major amendment approved by the committee revised the voting referee section of the House measure to permit state officials to sit in on Negro registration hearings before court-appointed referees.

"These woman's magazines make me tired—all they do is write about men!"

'Warmth, Water And Women . . .'

What impressions strike a man most forcefully when he returns from months in Antarctica?

"Warmth, water and women—not necessarily in that order," says a report to the National Geographic Society from New Zealand. To avoid being trapped by an early freeze-up, American scientists, Navy men and visitors who will not be wintering in the Antarctic head homeward each March by way of the friendly and flowery Dominion.

"That warmth should stand near the top of their list may not be surprising," says Geographic Vice President Frederick G. Vosburgh, who recently visited the south polar regions.

"On a typical day at the South Pole in February — one of the Antarctic summer months — the temperature hovered around 20 below zero. Even in the McMurdo Sound area, which the Pole sitters dub the Banana Belt, it rarely rose above the freezing mark, and then only a degree or two.

"But the lack of water in Antarctica may seem a paradox to some, especially when they read reliable calculations that the melting of the continent's ice and snow would raise the level of the oceans by 200 feet, drowning many of the world's great cites and buildings including the White House in Washington.

"Getting water from ice or snow, however, means the burning of precious fuel, hauled thousands of miles through stormy seas and the continent's girdle of floating ice. Water and oil may not mix, but here the one requires the other — at least until atomic power comes into Antarctic use.

"Even at the biggest U. S. station, McMurdo Naval Air Facility, on the coast, baths are limited to one quick one a week, flush toilets are unknown and the power-shovel trucks ply almost constantly between snowbanks and melter.

"Nevertheless there has been no dearth of applications from the more fastidious sex, especially those of its members who would like to establish some kind of a 'first,'," Voxburgh says.

Dieters Should Picture Selves As Slim

Teen-agers, are you afflicted with velliety? If you're too lazy to exercise and you have a lot of fat padding where a willowy waist should be, your handicap is velliety. Such faint hope never won anything!

By Ida Jean Kain

Now I want to let you in on a secret. Picture yourself the way you want to be . . .with a neat waist and a honey of a figure. You can become what you picture in your mind.

The principle is this: We can become what we picture more surely and more easily than what we determine. Why is this true? Because imagination, which is our picturing faculty, is more powerful than the will. Anytime the will and the imagination are in conflict, the imagination wins.

THE MENTAL PICTURE you make tends to actualize itself in fact. But don't confuse the word 'image' with wishful thinking. Imaging is purposeful picturing. It means to hold on to the mental image of what you want to become — then keep advancing confidently in the direction of your dream.

This is just another way of saying, keep your goal in mind. Get enthusiastic about slimming down and shaping up. This system really pays off!

Exercise to word pictures . . . words that help you to visualize or picture what you want. Try it. Stretch up — centering the stretch through the middle measurement and hit a rhythm. Stretching-makes-for-a-willowy-waist . . .pull slim. Follow through with a side bend. . .chanting, bending-nips-the-waist-and-slims-the-shape. As you stretch, bend and pull, get the picture of yourself. . .lithe, limber and supple.

Borrow from the dance pattern . . .swing arms toward the right. . . swing back toward the left. . .and on the third swing, circle arms up and over the top, with a suspended lifting motion. Swing again, the momentum may carry you one step sidewards. . .see no effort. It's fun and freeing.

The very word, calisthenics, means beauty with strength. Well, that's what you want, isn't it?

AND HOW DO you look in your best skirt? Bulgy? Banish the bulges! Grab hold of the door jamb with your right hand. . .and swing forward with left leg and left arm, keep knee straight. Now, swing leg and arm rearward.

Bend forward at waist so you can swing leg back past a 45-degree angle—to reach the bustle of fleshy muscle. Swing-and-sway-the-streamlined-way. Hit that rhythm. If you don't know the fun of swinging through shape-ups. . .you don't know what you've been missing.

Search Continues For Injured Dog, Beaver Girl's Pet

A search has spread to the East Liverpool area for a missing white German shepherd dog, a little girl's pet, which disappeared mysteriously from a New Brighton veterinary hospital after it was injured severely by an auto.

Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi has received a letter from Mrs. Jessie J. Hill, 396 Virginia Ave., Rochester, asking the department to join in the search for "King," a 110-pound male German shepherd.

"King" was injured March 15 when struck by a car. His left front leg mangled badly, the dog was taken to Dr. Glenn Bullock, 2123 3rd Ave., New Brighton, a veterinarian. After treatment for shock and loss of blood, the dog was to undergo surgery on the injured leg.

But burglars broke into the veterinary hospital March 23. "King" disappeared the night of the burglary, either stolen or set loose by the intruders, Mrs. Hill said.

Mrs. Hill said the search for her daughter's dog has spread into western Beaver County and Eastern Ohio. She asked persons with information to telephone her at SPruce 4-8237.
